Re: Reporting of non-shell status

Please accept this memo as notification that Southern Concepts Restaurant Group, Inc., formerly a shell company, is requesting to change its status as a shell company to an operating company effective immediately.

The company on March 1, 2023, started a new division focused on Executive training, consulting and coaching and signed a contract with its first client. The company will continue to pursue more clients and use this consulting arm to effectively interview companies in determining if they would be possible merger candidates. As disclosed in Footnote 172 of the SEC shell release and under rule 405 of the Securities Act of 1933, a startup business does not fit the definition of a shell company.

The signing of this client on March 1, 2023, would make the effective date that the Company is no longer a shell company.

The reason for the late notice is because I had thought that we had time to report this in our annual report that is due on March 31, 2023. I was informed a few hours ago that this had to be done today.

Regards,

Ross DiMaggio, CEO
