Dear Mr. Cummings,

Thank you for your comment dated September 8, 2023, regarding the Department of Justice's Notice of Proposed Rulemaking (NPRM) entitled "Nondiscrimination on the Basis of Disability; Accessibility of Web Information and Services of State and Local Government Entities." In your comment, you request that the Department extend the 60-day comment period for this NPRM by 90 days.

The Department has considered your request and believes that the existing 60-day comment period is appropriate and provides members of the public a meaningful opportunity to respond to the Department's proposal. The Department is therefore denying your request for an extension of the comment period. The comment period for this NPRM is currently set to close on October 3, 2023. We look forward to reviewing any further comment that your organization submits.

Sincerely,

/s/ Rebecca Bond
