Inpixon Recognized as an IDC Innovator for Location & Geospatial Intelligence

Overall Maturity of the Inpixon Platform Identified as Key Differentiator

PALO ALTO, Calif., Nov. 24, 2021 /PRNewswire/ -- Inpixon (Nasdaq: INPX), the Indoor Intelligence™ company, today announced it has been named an IDC Innovator in the IDC Innovators: Location and Geospatial Intelligence 2021 report.

"The availability and applicability of location and geospatial intelligence are booming right now," says Lynne Schneider, research director, Location and Geospatial Intelligence at IDC. "This is not an entirely new market, but the interest in this area had been largely concentrated with GIS professionals. As the use of location-enabled data moves more mainstream, we see a rapid increase in the need for location and geospatial data, mapping and navigation, location-enabled developer platforms, and location analytics and visualization. There are really exciting developments in this space."

Inpixon was recognized as an IDC Innovator for its comprehensive Indoor Intelligence platform. The report notes Inpixon's full-stack Indoor Intelligence offering which includes sensors, tags, maps, apps, AI, analytics and more. The IDC Innovator report also highlights Inpixon's ability to address multiple use cases that expand beyond the traditional workplace environment into settings that include augmented reality, industrial worker safety, asset tracking, and more. The IDC Innovator report identified Inpixon's key differentiator as the overall maturity of the platform which allows a single solution to extend to multiple user scenarios across numerous industries.

"We are pleased to be recognized as an IDC Innovator in the inaugural location and geospatial report," commented Nadir Ali, CEO of Inpixon. "This acknowledgement is further evidence of our commitment to innovation that leverages location technology to build smarter, safer and more secure environments. We are proud to provide our global customers solutions that transform data into actionable intelligence."

About IDC Innovators

IDC Innovators reports present a set of vendors – under $100M in revenue at time of selection – chosen by an IDC analyst within a specific market that offer an innovative new technology, a groundbreaking approach to an existing issue, and/or an interesting new business model. It is not an exhaustive evaluation of all companies in a segment or a comparative ranking of the companies. Vendors in the process of being acquired by a larger company may be included in the report provided the acquisition is not finalized at the time of publication of the report. Vendors funded by venture capital firms may also be included in the report even if the venture capital firm has a financial stake in the vendor's company.
