SECURITY FIRST INTERNATIONAL HOLDINGS INC.
NOTES TO THE UNAUDITED ANNUAL FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
DATED DECEMBER 31ST, 2023

Note 1 – NATURE OF OPERATIONS

The company was incorporated on March 9th, 1990, as “Buckaroom, Inc.” On July 3rd, 2000, the corporation changed its name to “Shaft, Inc.” On January 14th, 2003, the corporation changed its name to “Elegant Concrete, Inc.” On July 15th, 2005, the company again changed its name to “Security First International Holdings, Inc.”

Security First International Holdings, Inc. (“SCFR” or “the company” (OTC Markets: SCFR) is a development stage technology and company incubator. The company has developed various software apps including:

GO2CLOSE, an app designed for the real estate title companies to provide remote closes on real estate transactions. The idea is to remove friction from the closing process:

Voix Meta Numbers, a provisioning system for the e.164 telephone numbers to be used with online business communications. The company is currently provisioning numbers for Meta WhatsApp for business applications.

The company also owns Voix Speech Wallet, Mcoin, and The DroidCard.

The company owns a 50% equity interest in a title company located in Florida. The title company handles the title search and escrow aspects of the transaction. They coordinate and act as the center point for the closing for buyers, sellers, lenders, real estate brokers and third parties such as insurance companies, and inspectors. The company accounts for this investment under the Equity Accounting Method.

NOTE 2 – BASIS OF PRESENTATION

a) Statement of Compliance

The companies financial statements have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States (“GAAP”) as issued by the Financial Accounting Standards Board (“FASB”).

b) Basis of Measurement

The Company's financial statements have been prepared on the historical cost basis.

c) Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principals in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the financial statement date and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. The Company regularly evaluates estimates and assumptions related to the useful life and recover-ability of long-lived assets, fair value of convertible notes payable and derivative liabilities. The Company bases its estimates and assumptions on current facts, historical experience and various other factors that it believes to be reasonable under the circumstances, the results of which form the basis for making judgments about the carrying value of assets and liabilities and the accrual of costs and expenses that are not readily apparent from other sources. The actual results experienced by the Company may differ materially and adversely from the Company's estimates. To the extent there are material differences between estimates and the actual results, future results of operations will be affected.

d) Reclassification

The company has reclassified certain prior period financial information to conform with the current period presentation. In particular, the company determined that its 50% investment in a title company should be accounted for using the Equity Method of Accounting whereby the Company records its initial investment at cost, and adjusts on an annual basis its proportionate share of earnings or losses.

NOTE 3 – SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The following summarize the more significant accounting and reporting policies and practices of the Company.

a) Revenue recognition

In May 2014, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (“FASB”) issued Accounting Standards Codification (“ASC”) 606, Revenue From Contracts With Customers, effective for public business entities with annual reporting periods beginning after December 15th, 2017. This new revenue recognition standard (new guidance) has a five step process; a) Determine whether a contract exists; b) Identify the performance obligations; c) Determine the transaction price; d) Allocate the transaction price; and e) Recognize revenue when (or as) performance obligations are satisfied. The impact of the Company’s initial application of ASC 606 did not have a material impact on its financial statements and disclosures

b) Stock compensation for services rendered.

The Company may issue shares of common stock in exchange for services rendered. The cost of the services are valued according to generally accepted accounting principles and have been charged to operations.

c) Net income (loss) per share

Basic loss per share is computed by dividing the net income (loss) by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the period.

Property and equipment.

All property and equipment are recorded at cost and depreciated over their estimated useful lives, using the straight-line method. Upon sale or retirement, the cost and related accumulated depreciation are eliminated from their respective accounts, and the resulting gain or loss is included in the results of operations. Repairs and maintenance charges, which do not increase the useful lives of the assets, are charged to operations as incurred

d) Income Tax

Provisions for income tax are based on taxes payable or refundable for the current year and deferred taxes on temporary differences between the amount of taxable income and pretax financial income, and between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their reported amounts in the financial statements.

e) Cash and equivalents

For purposes of the statement of cash flows, the Company considers all highly liquid investments with maturity of three months or less when purchased to be cash equivalents

f) Financial Instruments and Fair Value Measurements

ASC 825-10 "Financial Instruments", allows entities to voluntarily choose to measure certain financial assets and liabilities at fair (fair value options). The fair value option may be elected on an instrument-by-instrument basis and is irrevocable, unless a new election date occurs. If the fair value option is elected for an instrument, unrealized gains and losses for that instrument should be reported in earnings at each subsequent reporting date. The Company did not elect to apply the fair value option to any outstanding instruments.

ASC 825 also requires disclosures of the fair value of financial instruments. The carrying value of the Company's current financial instruments, which include cash and cash equivalents, accounts payable and accrued liabilities approximate their fair values because of the short-term maturities of these instruments.

FASB ASC 820 "Fair Value Measurement" clarifies that fair value is an exit price, representing the amount that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants. It also requires disclosure about how fair value is determined for assets and liabilities and establishes a hierarchy for which these assets and liabilities must be grouped, based on significant levels of inputs as follows:

- Level 1: Quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.
- Level 2: Quoted prices in active markets for similar assets and liabilities and inputs that are observable for the asset or liability.
- Level 3: Unobservable inputs in which there is little or no market data, which require the reporting entity to develop its own assumptions.

The determination of where assets and liabilities fall within this hierarchy is based upon the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement.

g) Impairment of Long-Lived Assets

A long-lived asset is tested for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that its carry value may not be recoverable. An impairment loss is recognized when the carrying amount of the assets exceeds the sum of the undiscounted cash flows resulting from its use and eventual disposition. The impairment loss is measured as the amount by which the carry value of the long-lived assets exceeds its fair value.

h) Related Party Transactions

All transactions with related parties are in the normal course of operations and are measured at the exchange amount.

i) Intangible Assets

The useful life of intangible assets is assessed as either finite or indefinite. Following the initial recognition, intangible assets are carried at cost less any accumulated amortization and accumulated impairment losses, if any. Intangible assets with finite useful lives are carried at cost less accumulated amortization. Amortization is calculated using the straight line method over the estimated useful lives.

j) Equity Accounting Method

The Company accounts for investments in which it has between 20 percent and 50 percent ownership and exercises significant influence using the Equity Accounting Method. Investments are recorded at their original cost, and on an annual basis the company picks up its proportional share of earnings based upon its percentage ownership.

k) Subsidiaries

The Company has one wholly owned subsidiary, Smart Future Ventures LLC. The company is inactive and all inter-company transactions have been eliminated. There were no transactions for the years ended December 31st, 2023 and December 31st, 2022, respectively

NOTE 4 – GOING CONCERN

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared assuming that the Company will continue as a going concern. The Company's financial position and operating results raise substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, as reflected by the accumulated deficit of $3,343,520 since inception. The ability of the Company to continue as a going concern is dependent upon developing sales and obtaining additional capital and financing. The financial statements do not include any adjustments that might be necessary if the Company is unable to continue as a going concern.
