The Stock Exchange of Thailand

BBGI Public Company Limited ("the Company") would like to announce the quarterly key business update to announce approximately in the third week after each quarter end. For Q2/2022 the summary of key information as follows:

Reference Price	Q2/2022	Q2/2021	YoY	Q1/2022	QoQ
Average Ethanol Reference Price (Baht/Liter)*	26.46	25.69	3%	25.58	3%
Average B100 Reference Price (Baht/Liter)*	56.99	37.41	52%	53.69	6%

^{*}From Energy Policy and Planning Office (EPPO), Ministry of Energy

The average ethanol reference price increased YoY and QoQ due to an increase of the price of the main raw materials for ethanol production such as cassava and molasses and an increase of demand for fuel and ethanol due to the relief of COVID-19 pandemic and the relaxation of various control measures. The cassava price rose due to an increase of China import demand for cassava to replace a shortage of corn being used in the ethanol and animal feeds industry. The molasses price escalated because sugarcane production had been continued at a low level since 2019/20, with 92.07 million tons of sugarcane in 2021/22.

The average biodiesel reference price rose YoY and QoQ, in accordance with CPO price due to Russia-Ukraine crisis and the drought in South America, causing a shortage of oil crops around the world. In addition, on April 28, 2022, Indonesia, the world's largest producer and exporter of palm oil, announced to ban palm oil export causing an increasing of Thailand's exports of palm oil. However, Indonesia has cancelled the restriction palm oil export since May 23, 2022.
