Global Poletrusion Group Corp.
Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements
For the Year Ended December 31, 2023 and December 31, 2022

Note 1 - Organization and Operations

Nature of Business and Continuance of Operations

GPGC was incorporated in the state of Florida originally as Ronden Trucking Company in December 1995. The business operations were real estate and rights to an oil deposit. After the merger with Novacab Inc. on September 27, 2013 (name later changed to Novacab International Inc.), the direction of the business changed. The operations have evolved into a Emerging Growth Company in the field of distribution and production of renewable electrical energy. The plan is to design and develop distribution/transmission poles and towers to sell to utility companies. The composite utility poles and towers are produced by a third party and their steel, wood and concrete counterparts.

On March 7, 2017, the Company and Cegeny, Inc. a Quebec corporation, entered into a Share Exchange Agreement, dated March 7, 2017 (the Agreement”) by and among the Company, Cegeny Inc., and the stockholders of the Company (the Company Stockholders”). Pursuant to the Agreement, the Company acquired 100% of the issued and outstanding shares of common stock of the Cegeny Inc. in exchange for the issuance of 200,000,000 shares of common stock and 100,000,000 of Class G Preferred shares of the Company, which shares represented controlling interest of the then issued and outstanding shares of Company’s common stock and preferred stock. The Company remained as the surviving entity following completion of the share exchange. Upon the consummation of the Agreement, on April 24, 2017, the Company officially changed its name to Global Poletrusion Group Corp. Los Santos Energy Corp, a Panamanian company was formed on April 2, 2018 and registered in Panama on July 24, 2018. Los Santos Energy Corp. is an 80% owner subsidiary of Global Poletrusion Group Corp.

These consolidated financial statements have been prepared on a going concern basis, which assumes the Company will continue to realize its assets and discharge its liabilities in the normal course of business. The continuation of the Company as a going concern is dependent upon the continued financial support from its shareholders, the ability of the Company to obtain necessary equity financing to continue operations, and the attainment of profitable operations. As of December 31, 2023 and December 31, 2022, the Company had an accumulated deficit of $19,262,940 and $19,455,596 respectively. These factors raise substantial doubt regarding the Company’s ability to continue as a going concern. These financial statements do not include any adjustments to the recoverability and classification of recorded asset amounts and classification of liabilities that might be necessary should the Company be unable to continue as a going concern.

The Company’s management plans to raise funds in the next 12 months through a combination of debt financing and equity financing.

Note 2 - Significant and Critical Accounting Policies and Practices

a) Basis of Presentation

These consolidated financial statements of the Company have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States and are expressed in US dollars. The Company’s fiscal year end is December 31.

b) Principles of Consolidation

The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of GPGC and its 80% owned subsidiary, Los Santos. Intercompany accounts and transactions have been eliminated in consolidation.

c) Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with United States generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period.

The Company regularly evaluates estimates and assumptions related to stock-based compensation and deferred income tax asset valuation allowances.

The Company bases its estimates and assumptions on current facts, historical experience and various other factors that it believes to be reasonable under the circumstances, the results of which form the basis for making judgments about the carrying values of assets and liabilities and the accrual of costs and expenses that are not readily apparent from other sources. The actual results experienced by the Company may differ materially and adversely from the Company's estimates. To the extent there are material differences between the estimates and the actual results, future results of operations will be affected.

d) Cash

The Company considers cash in banks and other deposits with an original maturity of three months or less when purchased to be cash and cash equivalents. There were no cash equivalents as of December 31, 2023 and 2022.

f) Financial Instruments

The Company's financial instruments consist principally of cash, accounts payable and accrued liabilities, short-term debts, which are related party notes. Pursuant to ASC 820, Fair Value Measurements and Disclosures and ASC 825, Financial Instruments the fair value of the Company's cash equivalents is determined based on "Level 1" inputs, which consist of quoted prices in active markets for identical assets.

e) Basic and diluted earnings per share

Basic EPS is computed by dividing net income (loss) available to common shareholders (numerator) by the weighted average number of shares outstanding (denominator) during the period. Diluted EPS gives effect to all dilutive potential common shares outstanding during the period using the treasury stock method and convertible preferred stock using the if-converted method. In computing Diluted EPS, the average stock price for the period is used in determining the number of shares assumed to be purchased from the exercise of stock options or warrants.

For the years ended December 31, 2023 and 2021, potentially dilutive common stock equivalents not included in the calculation of diluted earnings per share because they were anti-dilutive are as follows: 41,153,000 common shares would be available as a result of converting debt.

The Company's planned operations will be in the United States, which results in exposure to market risks from changes in foreign currency exchange rates. The financial risk is the risk to the Company's operations that arise from fluctuations in foreign exchange rates and the degree of volatility of these rates. Currently, the Company does not use derivative instruments to reduce its exposure to foreign currency risk. The Company's functional currency for all operations worldwide is the U.S. dollar. Nonmonetary assets and liabilities are translated at historical rates and monetary assets and liabilities are translated at exchange rates in effect at the end of the year. Revenues and expenses are translated at average rates for the year. Gains and losses from translation of foreign currency financial statements into U.S. dollars are included in current results of operations.

g) Revenue Recognition

ASU No. 2014-09, Revenue from Contracts with Customers ("Topic 606"), became effective for the Company on January 1, 2018. The Company's revenue recognition disclosure reflects its updated accounting policies that are affected by this new standard. The Company applied the "modified retrospective" transition method for open contracts for the implementation of Topic 606.

The Company made no adjustments to its previously-reported total revenues, as those periods continue to be presented in accordance with its historical accounting practices under Topic 605, Revenue Recognition.

The Company will recognize revenue according to Topic 606 in a manner that reasonably reflects the delivery of its services and products to customers in return for expected consideration and includes the following elements:

- executed contracts with the Company’s customers that it believes are legally enforceable;
- identification of performance obligations in the respective contract;
- determination of the transaction price for each performance obligation in the respective contract;
- allocation the transaction price to each performance obligation; and
- recognition of revenue only when the Company satisfies each performance obligation.

The Company has had sales of $0 for the years ended December 31, 2023 and 2022.

h) Income Taxes

The Company uses the asset and liability method of accounting for income taxes, whereby deferred tax assets are recognized for deductible temporary differences, and deferred tax liabilities are recognized for taxable temporary differences. Temporary differences are the differences between the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and their tax bases. Deferred tax assets are reduced by a valuation allowance when, in the opinion of management, the Company does not foresee generating taxable income in the near future and utilizing its deferred tax asset, therefore, it is more likely than not that some portion, or all of, the deferred tax assets will not be realized. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are adjusted for the effects of changes in tax laws and rates on the date of enactment.

A tax position is recognized as a benefit only if it is “more likely than not” that the tax position would be sustained in a tax examination, with a tax examination being presumed to occur. The amount recognized is the largest amount of tax benefit that is greater than 50% likely of being realized on examination. For tax positions not meeting the “more likely than not” test, no tax benefit is recorded. The Company has no material uncertain tax positions for any of the reporting periods presented.

i) Stock-Based Compensation

We estimate the fair value of each stock option award at the grant date by using the Black-Scholes option pricing model and common shares based on the market price of the Company’s common stock on the date of the share grant. The fair value determined represents the cost for the award and is recognized over the vesting period during which an employee is required to provide service in exchange for the award. As share-based compensation expense is recognized based on awards ultimately expected to vest, we reduce the expense for estimated forfeitures based on historical forfeiture rates. Previously recognized compensation costs may be adjusted to reflect the actual forfeiture rate for the entire award at the end of the vesting period. Excess tax benefits, if any, are recognized as an addition to paid-in capital.

Fair value measurements

When required to measure assets or liabilities at fair value, the Company uses a fair value hierarchy based on the level of independent, objective evidence surrounding the inputs used. The Company determines the level within the fair value hierarchy in which the fair value measurements in their entirety fall. The categorization within the fair value hierarchy is based upon the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement. Level 1 uses quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities, Level 2 uses significant other observable inputs, and Level 3 uses significant unobservable inputs.

The amount of the total gains or losses for the period are included in earnings that are attributable to the change in unrealized gains or losses relating to those assets and liabilities still held at the reporting date. The Company has no assets or liabilities that are adjusted to fair value on a recurring basis.

Convertible financial instruments

The Company bifurcates conversion options from their host instruments and accounts for them as free-standing derivative financial instruments if certain criteria are met. The criteria include circumstances in which (a) the economic characteristics and risks of the embedded derivative instrument are not clearly and closely related to the economic characteristics and risks of the host contract, (b) the hybrid instrument that embodies both the embedded derivative instrument and the host contract is not remeasured at fair value under otherwise applicable generally accepted accounting principles with changes in fair value reported in earnings as they occur, and (c) a separate instrument with the same terms as the embedded derivative instrument would be considered a derivative instrument. An exception to this rule is when the host instrument is deemed to be conventional, as that term is described under applicable U.S. GAAP.

Beneficial conversion feature

The issuance of the convertible debt generated a beneficial conversion feature (“BCF”), which arises when a debt or equity security is issued with an embedded conversion option that is beneficial to the investor or in the money at inception because the conversion option has an effective strike price that is less than the market price of the underlying stock at the commitment date. The Company recognized the BCF by allocating the intrinsic value of the conversion option, which is the number of shares of common stock available upon conversion multiplied by the difference between the effective conversion price per share and the fair value of common stock per share on the commitment date, resulting in a discount on the convertible debt (recorded as a component of additional paid-in capital). The discount is amortized to interest expense over the term of the convertible debt.

j) Recent Accounting Pronouncements

In February 2016, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (“FASB”) issued Accounting Standards Update (“ASU”) 2016-02, Leases (Topic 842). The update modified the classification criteria and requires lessees to recognize the assets and liabilities on the balance sheet for most leases. The update was effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2018, with early adoption permitted. Adoption of this update as of July 1, 2019 did not have a material impact on the Company’s consolidated financial statements because the Company has no long-term operating leases.

In June 2018, the FASB issued ASU 2018-07, Stock Compensation (Topic 718): Improvements to Nonemployee Share-Based Payment Accounting. The update aligns the accounting for share-based payment awards issued to nonemployees with those issued to employees. Under the new guidance, the nonemployee awards will be measured on the grant date and compensation costs will be recognized when achievement of the performance condition is probable. This new standard is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2018, including interim periods within that fiscal year. The adoption of the new guidance on July 1, 2019 did not have a material impact on the Company’s consolidated financial statements.

In August 2018, the FASB issued ASU 2018-13, Fair Value Measurement (Topic 820): Disclosure Framework- Changes to the Disclosure Requirements for Fair Value Measurement. The update modifies the disclosure requirements for recurring and nonrecurring fair value measurements, primarily those surrounding Level 3 fair value measurements and transfers between Level 1 and Level 2. The new standard is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2019, including interim periods within that reporting period.

The Company is currently evaluating the new guidance and does not expect it to have a material impact on its consolidated financial statements.

In August 2020, the FASB issued ASU 2020-06, ASC Subtopic 470-20 “Debt—Debt with Conversion and Other Options” and ASC subtopic 815-40 “Hedging—Contracts in Entity’s Own Equity”. The standard reduced the number of accounting models for convertible debt instruments and convertible preferred stock.

Convertible instruments that continue to be subject to separation models are (1) those with embedded conversion features that are not clearly and closely related to the host contract, that meet the definition of a derivative, and that do not qualify for a scope exception from derivative accounting; and, (2) convertible debt instruments issued with substantial premiums for which the premiums are recorded as paid-in capital. The amendments in the update are effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2021, including interim periods within those fiscal years. Early adoption is permitted, but no earlier than fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2020, including interim periods within those fiscal years. The Company is currently assessing the impact of the adoption of this standard on its consolidated financial statements.

As of December 31, 2023 and 2022, there are no recently issued accounting standards not yet adopted that would have a material effect on the Company’s financial statements to have a material impact on the Company’s CFS.

Note 3 – Going Concern

The Company’s financial statements have been prepared assuming that it will continue as a going concern, which contemplates continuity of operations, realization of assets, and liquidation of liabilities in the normal course of business.

As reflected in the financial statements, the Company had an accumulated deficit of $19,445,596 as of December 31, 2023 and $19,445,596 for the year ended December 31, 2022. The Company had a net loss of $2,827 for the year ended December 31, 2023 and a net loss of $71,669 for the year ended December 31, 2022. The Company had net cash used in operating activities of $14,313 for the year ended December 31, 2022 and a net cash used in operating activities of $9,110 for the period ended December 31, 2023. These factors raise substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern.

The Company has commenced operations and has not generated revenue; however, the Company's cash position may not be sufficient to support the Company's daily operations. Management intends to raise additional funds by way of a private or public offering or form of debt financing.

While the Company believes in the viability of its strategy to continue operations and generate sufficient revenue and in its ability to raise additional funds, there can be no assurances to that effect. The ability of the Company to continue as a going concern is dependent upon the Company's ability to further implement its business plan and generate sufficient revenue and its ability to raise additional funds by way of a public or private offering.

The financial statements do not include any adjustments related to the recoverability and classification of recorded asset amounts or the amounts and classification of liabilities that might be necessary should the Company be unable to continue as a going concern.

Note 4 – Notes Payable

As of December 31, 2020, the Company had four convertible notes payable for a total amount of $29,515 and had five convertible notes payable for a total amount of $27,410 as of December 31, 2023, with maturity dates as outlined below. The principal amount of the notes plus interest can be converted to common shares at a fixed price of $0.0001. The notes were not repaid on the due date as listed below and continue to accrue interest until principal with accrued interest can be paid pursuant to the terms of the note agreement.

The original holder of the convertible note, Nathan Yoder, assigned the notes in 2017 to unrelated third parties. The notes payable had the following terms:

Kirkcaldy Ventures Ltd: $22,000, issued December 1, 2012, 18 % compounded semi-annually, maturity December 12, 2013. During 2019 Kirkcaldy Ventures Ltd sold an aggregate total of $11,000 worth of their Promissory note to four unrelated parties. Kirkcaldy Ventures Ltd. has accrued $12,143 in interest for the year ended December 31, 2019 and $11,595 in accrued interest for the year ended December 31, 2020. With respect to this note, there was a beneficial conversion feature which was fully amortized as of December 13, 2013 and there is no provision for default interest in the note. To date, there have been no payments made by the Company for principal or interest

Gail Rodgers: $5,500, issued March 12, 2013, 18% compounded semi-annually, Maturity March 11, 2014. Gail Rogers has accrued $2,535 in interest for the year ended December 31, 2019 and $3012 in accrued interest for the year ended December 31, 2020. With respect to his note, there was a beneficial conversion feature that was fully amortized as of March 11, 2014 and there is no provision for default interest in the note. To date there have been no payments made by the Company for principal or interest.

10412066 Canada Inc. $14,313 issued March 2, 2019, 10% per annum, maturity March 2, 2020. 10412066 Canada Inc has accrued $1,431 in interest for the year ended December 31, 2023. To date there have been no payments made by the Company for principal or interest.

10412066 Canada Inc. $8,750 issued September 26, 2020, 10% per annum, maturity September 25, 2021. 10412066 Canada Inc has accrued $875 in interest for the year ended December 31, 2023. To date there have been no payments made by the Company for principal or interest.

Notes Payable-Related Party

As of December 31, 2018, Poletrusion Canada has advanced the total sum of $128,839 to the Company. As of December 31, 2020 Poletrusion Canada has advanced an additional $27,784 for the ongoing operations of the Company. As of December 31, 2020 the total amount of funds advanced by Poletrusion Canada is $156,623. This amount was non-interest bearing until April 15, 2021. On April 15, 2021 the Company executed a Convertible Promissory Note with Poletrusion Canada, this Note bears an interest rate of 5% and is Convertible to Common Stock at a fixed price of $0.01.

On the amount of $128,849, the Company recorded imputed interest in the amount of $3,848 for the years ended December 31, 2023 and $15,462 for the year ended December 31, 2022. On the note amount of $27,784 the Company recorded a total of $464 in accrued interest for the year ended December 31, 2021 and $1,389 for the year ended December 31, 2022.

As of December 31, 2023 these amounts have been forgiven by the Noteholders and written off in their entirety and duly recorded in the books of the Company.

Accrued Interest

The Company had an aggregate total of $120,770 of accrued interest as of December 31, 2023 and incurred $10,614 of interest expense for the period then ended. The Company had an aggregate total of $101,848 of accrued interest as of December 31, 2022 and incurred $2,077 of interest expense for the period ended. The notes and related accrued interest payable have been presented as a current liability since the notes were not paid at maturity.

Note 6– Income Taxes

The Company did not recognize a provision (benefit) for income taxes for the years ended December 31, 2021 and 2020.

At December 31, 2023 and 2022, the Company had net deferred tax assets principally arising from the net operating loss carryforward for income tax purposes multiplied by an expected federal rate of 21%. As management of the Company cannot determine that it is more likely than not that the Company will realize the benefit of the deferred tax assets, a valuation allowance equal to 100% of the net deferred tax asset exists at December 31, 2023 and 2022.

A reconciliation of the federal statutory income tax to our effective income tax is as follows:

	December 31, 2023	December 31, 2022
Federal statutory rates	$ (27,631)	$ (173,757)
Income tax adjustment
Expense not deductible in current period	-	-
Permanent difference	-	-
Valuation allowance against net deferred tax assets	27,631	173,757
Effective rate	$ -	$ -

At December 31, 2023, the Company had federal net operating loss carry forwards of approximately $27,631 will never expire but its utilization is limited to 80% of taxable income in any future year

At December 31, 2022, the Company had federal net operating loss carry forwards of approximately $173,757 will never expire but its utilization is limited to 80% of taxable income in any future year.

Net deferred tax assets consist of the following components as of:

	December 31, 2023	December 31, 2022
Operating loss carry forward	$ 69,363	$ 131,577
Valuation allowance	(69,363)	(131,577)
Net deferred income tax asset	$ -	$ -

The Company is open to examination of our income tax filings in the United States and state jurisdictions for the 2018 through 2020 tax years. Tax attributes from years prior to that can be adjusted as a result of examinations. In the event that the Company is assessed penalties and or interest, penalties will be charged to other operating expense and interest will be charged to interest expense.
