STUDIO CITY, CA – February 22, 2024 – Glitz, glam, fashion...and murder! A Paris Fashion Show takes a turn when someone winds up dead in "Crimes of Fashion: Killer Clutch" a new original premiering Friday, March 15 (9 p.m. ET/PT), on Hallmark Mystery starring Brooke D'Orsay ("A Not So Royal Christmas," "A Fabled Holiday") and Gilles Marini ("Days of Our Lives," "Switched at Birth").

Lauren Elliot (D'Orsay) is a leading psychologist who lands a dream job as a performance coach at the Parisian-based House of Trésor, a coveted fashion brand run by Virgil St. James (François Legrand, "An Unexpected Destiny") – a famous fashion designer. With the help of Lauren's calming techniques, Virgil's Paris Fashion Week show is a success, but the applause of the audience is interrupted by screams when Charlotte (Paloma Coquant, "Munch"), Lauren's best friend, is discovered behind the catwalk standing over the dead body of Trésor's business manager. As Lauren uses her expert skills to unravel the case with the help of André Duvreuil (Marini), an alluring but guarded French detective, the two discover a counterfeit handbag ring and a growing list of fashionable suspects.

"Crimes of Fashion: Killer Clutch" is A Cineflix Media Production. Jeff Vanderwal, J.C. Mills, Sherri Ruff, Michael Rosenberg and Laura Notarianni are executive producers. The movie is produced by Ferenc Pusztai. Felipe Rodriguez directed from a script by Tome McCurrie and Stephanie Sourapas.
