Fitch Places Four Israeli Banks on RWN after Sovereign Action

Fitch Ratings - London - 19 Oct 2023: Fitch Ratings has placed the support-driven 'A' Long-Term Issuer Default Ratings (IDRs) of four Israeli banks on Ratings Watch Negative (RWN) following similar action on the sovereign. The banks' 'F1+' Short-Term IDRs, their 'a' Government Support Ratings (GSRs) and their 'A' senior debt ratings were also placed on RWN. A full list of rating actions is below.

The banks' 'a-' Viability Ratings (VRs) and other ratings are not immediately affected by the sovereign rating action.

For additional details on the sovereign rating action see "Fitch Places Israel's 'A+' IDRs on Rating Watch Negative" dated 17 October 2023.

Key Rating Drivers

The IDRs, GSRs and, where relevant, senior debt ratings of Bank Leumi Le-Israel B.M., Bank Hapoalim B.M., Mizrahi Tefahot Bank Ltd and Israel Discount Bank Limited reflect our view of a very high probability that Israel (A+/RWN/F1+/RWN) would support the banks, if needed. Fitch assesses Israel's propensity to support these banks as very high, particularly given their systemic importance, as each represents between 15% and 30% of banking system assets. However, the RWN reflects increased risks to the sovereign's ability to provide support.

Rating Sensitivities

Factors that Could, Individually or Collectively, Lead to Negative Rating Action/Downgrade

A downgrade of the sovereign rating is likely to result in a downgrade of the banks' GSRs, IDRs and senior debt ratings (where relevant).

Factors that Could, Individually or Collectively, Lead to Positive Rating Action/Upgrade

The banks' IDRs are likely to be affirmed and removed from RWN if Israel's ratings are affirmed and removed from RWN.

An upgrade of the IDRs is unlikely due to the RWN on the sovereign IDRs.

ESG Considerations

The highest level of ESG credit relevance is a score of '3', unless otherwise disclosed in this section. A score of '3' means ESG issues are credit neutral or have only a minimal credit impact on the entity, either due to their nature or the way in which they are being managed by the entity. Fitch's ESG Relevance Scores are not inputs in the rating process; they are an observation on the relevance and materiality of ESG factors in the rating decision. In issuing and maintaining its ratings and in making other reports (including forecast information), Fitch relies on factual information it receives from issuers and underwriters and from other sources Fitch believes to be credible. Fitch conducts a reasonable investigation of the factual information relied upon by it in accordance with its ratings methodology, and obtains reasonable verification of that information from independent sources, to the extent such sources are available for a given security or in a given jurisdiction. The manner of Fitch's factual investigation and the scope of the third-party verification it obtains will vary depending on the nature of the rated security and its issuer, the requirements and practices in the jurisdiction in which the rated security is offered and sold and/or the issuer is located, the availability and nature of relevant public information, access to the management of the issuer and its advisers, the availability of pre-existing third-party verifications such as audit reports, agreed-upon procedures letters, appraisals, actuarial reports, engineering reports, legal opinions and other reports provided by third parties, the availability of independent and competent third-party verification sources with respect to the particular security or in the particular jurisdiction of the issuer, and a variety of other factors. Users of Fitch's ratings and reports should understand that neither an enhanced factual investigation nor any third-party verification can ensure that all of the information Fitch relies on in connection with a rating or a report will be accurate and complete. Ultimately, the issuer and its advisers are responsible for the accuracy of the information they provide to Fitch and to the market in offering documents and other reports. In issuing its ratings and its reports, Fitch must rely on the work of experts, including independent auditors with respect to financial statements and attorneys with respect to legal and tax matters. Further, ratings and forecasts of financial and other information are inherently forward-looking and embody assumptions and predictions about future events that by their nature cannot be verified as facts. As a result, despite any verification of current facts, ratings and forecasts can be affected by future events or conditions that were not anticipated at the time a rating or forecast was issued or affirmed.

The complete span of best- and worst-case scenario credit ratings for all rating categories ranges from 'AAA' to 'D'. Fitch also provides information on best-case rating upgrade scenarios and worst-case rating downgrade scenarios (defined as the 99th percentile of rating transitions, measured in each direction) for international credit ratings, based on historical performance. A simple average across asset classes presents best-case upgrades of 4 notches and worst-case downgrades of 8 notches at the 99th percentile. Sector-specific best- and worst-case scenario credit ratings are listed in more detail at Fitch receives fees from issuers, insurers, guarantors, other obligors, and underwriters for rating securities. Such fees generally vary from US$1,000 to US$750,000 (or the applicable currency equivalent) per issue. In certain cases, Fitch will rate all or a number of issues issued by a particular issuer, or insured or guaranteed by a particular insurer or guarantor, for a single annual fee. Such fees are expected to vary from US$10,000 to US$1,500,000 (or the applicable currency equivalent).
