

Before the Federal Communications Commission
Washington, D.C. 20554

In the Matter of)
)
Promoting Efficient Use of Spectrum through)	ET Docket No. 22-137
Improved Receiver Interference Immunity) Performance)

EX PARTE REPLY COMMENTS OF COLLINS AEROSPACE

Collins Aerospace (“Collins”), a division of Raytheon Technologies Corporation, provides the following reply comments with respect to the Federal Communications Commission’s Notice of Inquiry in the above-referenced docket.¹ Collins supports the Joint Reply Comments of Aerospace Industries Association, Air Line Pilots Association, International, Aviation Spectrum Resources, Inc., The Boeing Company, and the General Aviation Manufacturers Association dated July 27, 2022 and the Reply of Airlines of America dated July 27, 2022.

Respectfully submitted,

/s/ Megan Rae Rosia
Megan Rae Rosia
Director, Government Relations & Regulatory Affairs
Phone: (571) 383-4435
megan.rosia@collins.com

August 9, 2022

¹ Promoting Efficient Use of Spectrum through Improved Receiver Interference Immunity Performance, ET Docket No. 22-137, Notice of Inquiry, FCC 22-29 (rel. April 21, 2022).