ASX and Media Announcement

Summary Update for the Quarter Ended 30 June 2024

Fatfish Group Ltd ("Fatfish" or the "Company") is pleased to provide a summary of its activities for the quarter ended 30 June 2024 ("Quarter").

During the Quarter, Fatfish recorded total cash receipts of A$0.58 million, compared to A$1.128 million in the preceding quarter. This was driven by the management's focus on refining revenue streams to achieve higher quality revenue for its AI business to move a stage closer to profitability.

This is reflected in the Company's efficiency with operating expenditure being 67% of cash receipts in the Quarter opposed to 81% in the last quarter. This speaks to the Company's ability to build future shareholder value at a greater rate.

Launching Social Gaming

During the Quarter, the Company launched its first social gaming project, 'hibur.io' (Hibur, pronounced he-boor). Hibur is a unified social gaming platform complete with user management, game management, an in-game currency system and third-party integration functions. Initially, Hibur supports games from third party developers.

Hibur.io offers competitive casual social gaming like many other mainstream casual gaming platforms. Hibur.io does not engage in real-money casino gaming. The Company has proactively sought external legal advice on the operation of the Hibur.io platform, ensuring that it is compliant with the legal framework of the South-East Asian jurisdictions in which the platform is live.

Hibur.io hosted a soft launch event called the 'Gem Rush' during the Quarter, with the main aim of gathering gamers' feedback. More than 5,000 gamers played "Gem Rush" and the Company received useful feedback from gamers. This feedback will be critical in future launches of first party games on the Hibur.io platform and on the expansion of the platform itself.

At the end of the last quarter Hibur.io has started generating first revenues from gamers. Moving forward, Fatfish will continue to scale up marketing for Hibur.io and launch new features for gamers and future third party app developers on the platform.

Entering AI Gaming via AIGC Acquisition

During the Quarter, Fatfish entered into an agreement pursuant to which it would acquire up to 51% of an Artificial Intelligence-enabled game developer, AI Gaming Co. Pte Ltd (AIGC).

By applying AI techniques and technologies, AIGC is able to both materially reduce game development times - potentially reducing workflows from several months to several weeks - whilst also enhancing the in-game experience with AI-enhanced narratives and gameplay.

AIGC is focused on developing its Game Development Kit ("GDK") which can utilise its AI enhanced capabilities in combination with existing game development workflows in a complimentary manner to significantly reduce production input requirements. In addition AIGC is producing first-party development games to demonstrate the capabilities of its GDK and produce secondary immediate revenue.

AIGC's pilot game, Tatarot, launched earlier this year and has since generated over 200,000 users. Tatarot is an AI-powered tarot card reading app that merges traditional tarot practices with AI-personalised art, providing users with a gamified experience. The unique artworks are also mintable by the user. Tatarot was mainly developed to showcase AIGC's production capabilities, but also produced approximately SGD 250,000 in revenue.

AIGC has three other games in development including 'The Waifu Maker' an online immersive virtual girlfriend experience utilising generative-AI and neo-Tokyo art, Bumpies, a free-to-play real-time multiplayer strategy game, and Globalands, an AI enhanced endless runner game. Fatfish expects to provide further updates on the development of AIGC's first party games as they progress. The speed at which AIGC can develop games enables AIGC to take a quantity approach to its development - with the view that not every game will be a 'winner' and result in massive uptake but some will.
