Important information

Non-GAAP Financial Measures

This presentation contains reference to certain financial measures that are not calculated and presented in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States (GAAP). Alcoa Corporation believes that the presentation of these non-GAAP financial measures is useful to investors because such measures provide both additional information about the operating performance of Alcoa Corporation and insight on the ability of Alcoa Corporation to meet its financial obligations by adjusting the most directly comparable GAAP financial measure for the impact of, among others, “special items” as defined by the Company, non-cash items in nature, and/or nonoperating expense or income items. The presentation of non-GAAP financial measures is not intended to be a substitute for, and should not be considered in isolation from, the financial measures reported in accordance with GAAP. Certain definitions, reconciliations to the most directly comparable GAAP financial measures and additional details regarding management’s rationale for the use of the non-GAAP financial measures can be found in the appendix to this presentation. Alcoa Corporation does not provide reconciliations of the forward-looking non-GAAP financial measures Adjusted EBITDA and Adjusted Net Income, including transformation, intersegment eliminations and other corporate Adjusted EBITDA; operational tax expense; and other expense; each excluding special items, to the most directly comparable forward-looking GAAP financial measures because it is impractical to forecast certain special items, such as restructuring charges and mark-to-market contracts without unreasonable efforts due to the variability and complexity associated with predicting the occurrence and financial impact of such special items. For the same reasons, we are unable to address the probable significance of the unavailable information, which could be material to future results.

Alumina supply currently tight, limited low carbon projects in pipeline

Recent alumina index price history, market dynamics and outlook

Platts FOB WA alumina, $/tonne

Market dynamics

- Chinese refinery curtailments due to domestic bauxite shortage; China bauxite imports and seaborne bauxite prices up YTD
- Supply issues highlighted by Queensland force majeure, reduced Indian alumina exports and Kwinana curtailment
- Strong demand from smelting restarts, mostly in China

Outlook

- Steady demand growth driven by growing aluminum supply
- China expected to import 80% of bauxite needs by 2030, up from 65% currently
- China's Energy Conservation and Carbon Reduction Action Plan for 2024-2025 sets strict energy efficiency standard for refinery expansions, likely to add cost and ramp-up time for new projects
- Mine-to-metal¹ aluminum carbon footprint under 4 tonnes CO₂e/tonne aluminum requires low carbon alumina; few low carbon refinery projects in the global pipeline, none expected before 2030

Aluminum prices up in 2024, reflect market dynamics

Recent aluminum index price history, market dynamics and outlook

LME aluminum + weighted premia¹, $/tonne

Market dynamics

- Limited new projects coming online, China holds to 45Mmt cap, some Chinese affiliated projects advance outside of China
- Inventory remains at historically low level (50-55 days)
- Aluminum related trade defense actions² on the rise in North America and Europe
- Recovery in packaging, electrical and automotive demand remains solid; construction sector demand remains subdued
- 2Q24 regional premiums in key markets up sequentially; low carbon premium pricing indices available in Europe, North America and Asia, representing 90% of ex-China demand

Outlook

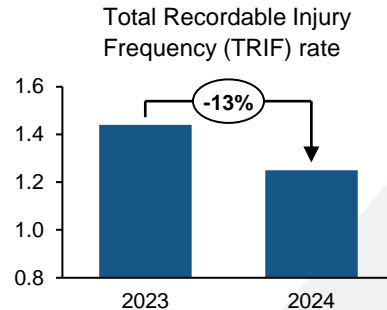

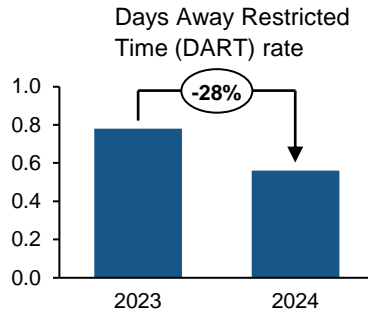

- Long term demand growth driven by transport, packaging and electrical, and consumer preference for recyclable materials
- Demand for low carbon aluminum expected to grow
- Expected new smelting capacity in the coming five years heavily reliant on non-renewable power

Improving production/stability and progressing ELYSIS™

Production improvements and records, and details of ELYSIS announcement

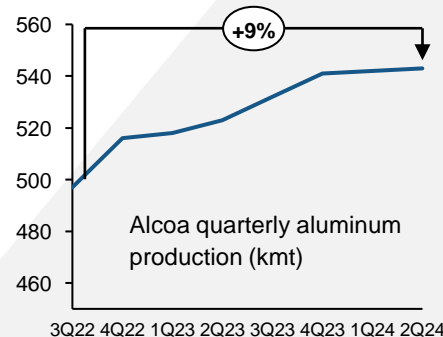

Recent achievements in operations

- Safety metrics improving

- Smelter production records

- All-time quarterly and half year production records at Mosjøen smelter
- Continued strong performance generates half year production record for Canadian smelting system
- Highest quarterly Warrick production since smelter reopened in 2017

Further progress on ELYSIS technology

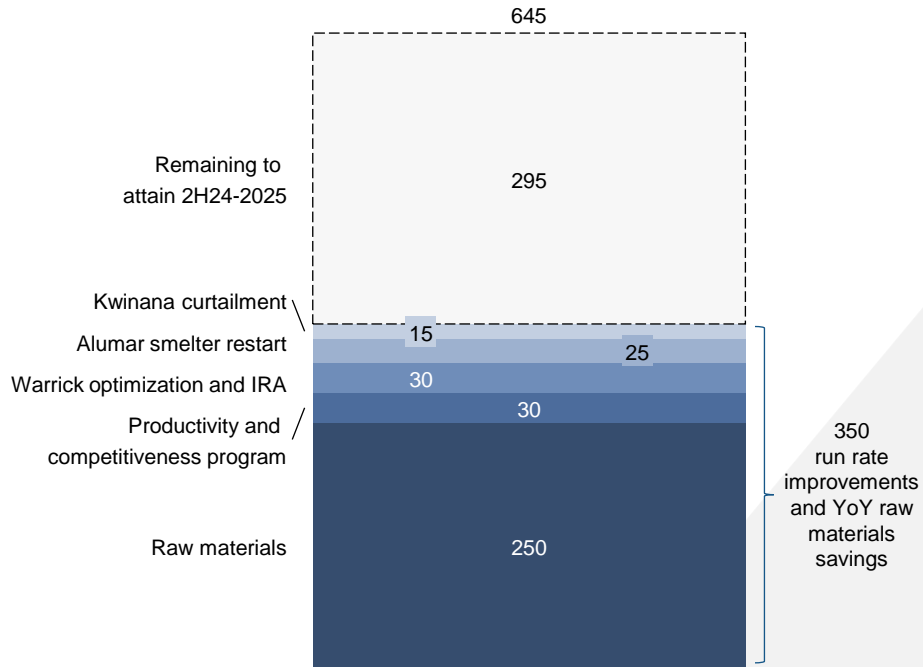

- First industrial-scale demonstration of ELYSIS technology, which eliminates all greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions from the traditional smelting process and produces oxygen as a byproduct, to be funded by Rio Tinto and the Government of Québec
- Alcoa has right to purchase up to 40 percent of metal produced for four years
- Alcoa invented the original technology, and will be supplying the anodes and cathodes for the demonstration
- Demonstration project includes 10 ELYSIS smelting pots operating at 100 kiloamperes, with first production targeted by 2027

$350 million of program improvement; San Ciprián ongoing

Snapshot of profitability improvement program attainment, 2Q24 YTD, $ millions

Profitability improvement program status

San Ciprián process continues, challenging

- Sale process commenced and expected to conclude in 2H24; success of sale and operational recovery depends upon significant and active support of government and flexibility from unions
- Power prices remain uneconomic due to (i) lack of material indirect CO₂ cost compensation from Spanish Government; (ii) substantial transmission costs and (iii) permitting delays and adjustments to renewable power generation projects associated with signed PPAs
- Pots restarted (6%) in 1Q24 in compliance with viability agreement; additional restarts threatened by uneconomic power costs
- Cash expected to run out in late 2024; Alcoa will not provide additional funds

Advancing initiatives while Alumina Limited deal set to close

2Q24 Summary

Second quarter summary

- No Fatal or Serious Injuries (FSIAs); key metrics continue improving as safety programs ongoing
- Progressed Alumina Limited transaction; near completion
- Furthered profitability improvement initiatives, including curtailment of Kwinana

Going forward

- Close Alumina Limited transaction on or about August 1
- Continue efforts to achieve San Ciprián solution
- Complete Alumar restart while maintaining stability
- Deliver savings of profitability improvement programs
- Benefit from positive near and long term market outlook

Additional business considerations

Items expected to impact Adjusted EBITDA and Adjusted net income for 3Q24

Expected sequential impacts on Adjusted EBITDA excluding special items, excluding indexed sales prices or currency impacts:

- In the Alumina segment, we expect unfavorable impacts related to Australia bauxite grade of approximately $10 million.
- In the Aluminum segment, we expect favorable raw material price impacts of approximately $10 million.
- Alumina costs in the Aluminum segment are expected to be unfavorable by approximately $60 million.
- Estimate intersegment profit elimination for every $10/mt decrease in API prices to be a $7 million to $9 million favorable impact based on comparison of the average API of the last two months of each quarter (API is based on average of prior month spot prices); consider intersegment eliminations as component of minority interest calculation.
- Using quarter end exchange rates, 2Q24 Adjusted EBITDA included a favorable balance sheet revaluation impact of approximately $5 million (favorable $1 million sequentially compared to 1Q24); impacts related to balance sheet revaluation are not incorporated into the currency sensitivities provided for Adjusted EBITDA.

Below Adjusted EBITDA:

- 3Q24 Interest expense expected to increase by $5 million related to the Alumina Limited debt assumed at acquisition closing.
- Based on recent pricing, the Company expects 3Q24 operational tax expense to approximate $60 to $70 million.
- 3Q24 Net income attributable to noncontrolling interest will be reported through acquisition closing and is expected to approximate $20 million.

Adjusted EBITDA excl. special items	$137	$70	$89	$536	$132	$325

Alcoa Corporation's definition of Adjusted EBITDA is net margin plus an add-back for depreciation, depletion, and amortization. Net margin is equivalent to Sales minus the following items: Cost of goods sold; Selling, general administrative, and other expenses; Research and development expenses; and Provision for depreciation, depletion, and amortization. Adjusted EBITDA is a non-GAAP financial measure. Management believes that this measure is meaningful to investors because Adjusted EBITDA provides additional information with respect to Alcoa Corporation's operating performance and the Company's ability to meet its financial obligations. The Adjusted EBITDA presented may not be comparable to similarly titled measures of other companies.

Free cash flow less net noncontrolling interest distributions	$(108)	$(36)	$28	$(282)	$(269)	$101

Free cash flow and Free cash flow less net distributions to noncontrolling interest are non-GAAP financial measures. Management believes that these measures are meaningful to investors because management reviews cash flows generated from operations after taking into consideration capital expenditures and net distributions to noncontrolling interest. Capital expenditures are necessary to maintain and expand Alcoa Corporation's asset base and are expected to generate future cash flows from operations, while net distributions to noncontrolling interest are necessary to fulfill our obligations to our joint venture partners. It is important to note that Free cash flow and Free cash flow less net distributions to noncontrolling interest do not represent the residual cash flows available for discretionary expenditures since other non-discretionary expenditures, such as mandatory debt service requirements, are not deducted from the measure.

Net debt is a non-GAAP financial measure. Management believes that this measure is meaningful to investors because management assesses Alcoa Corporation's leverage position after considering available cash that could be used to repay outstanding debt. When cash exceeds total debt, the measure is expressed as net cash.

Adjusted net debt and Proportional adjusted net debt are also non-GAAP financial measures. Management believes that these additional measures are meaningful to investors because management also assesses Alcoa Corporation's leverage position after considering available cash that could be used to repay outstanding debt and net pension/OPEB liability, net of the portion of those items attributable to noncontrolling interest (NCI).

DWC working capital and Days working capital are non-GAAP financial measures. Management believes that these measures are meaningful to investors because management uses its working capital position to assess Alcoa Corporation's efficiency in liquidity management.

1. Days working capital is calculated as DWC working capital divided by the quotient of Sales and number of days in the quarter

1. Special items include provisions for income taxes, and noncontrolling interest.
2. Denominator calculated using quarter ending balances.
