CS DISCO Announces Lauren Caruso as Chief Sales Officer

2024-11-05

Industry veteran and senior sales leader returns to help grow and expand the company's relationships with leading litigation firms and corporations

AUSTIN, Texas--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- DISCO (NYSE: LAW), a leader in AI-enabled legal technology, today announced that Lauren Caruso will join the company as senior vice president and Chief Sales Officer to help further drive adoption of its suite of advanced generative AI and ediscovery solutions among leading law firms and corporations.

"Lauren is a proven sales leader with a deep understanding of how DISCO stands apart in the legal technology space," said CEO Eric Friedrichsen. "As we continue to grow in our target market, Lauren's extensive knowledge of our products and services – as well as the broader legal tech landscape – will help our sales teams be more productive, efficient and effective. DISCO's next chapter will be underpinned by a strong commitment to a focused product strategy that is tightly aligned with our go-to-market execution, and I'm thrilled to welcome Lauren back to DISCO to help bring this to life."

Caruso is returning to DISCO after having previously served as the company's VP of North American Sales. She has also held senior sales leadership positions at Second Nature and Tractable and began her career at Am Law 50 firms Milbank, LLP and Skadden Arps. At DISCO she will lead the Global Sales organization with a focus on expanding the company's relationships with leading litigation firms and corporations.

"I'm excited to return to DISCO where I have always believed in the potential of our people and platform to transform the legal tech space," Caruso said. "I know firsthand the caliber and commitment of this organization, and I'm looking forward to leading this team as we continue to grow our footprint, partnering with lawyers, litigation support and legal operations professionals across our portfolio and beyond. I am excited to be joining the team at such a pivotal time and look forward to supporting our next phase of growth."
