EXXE GROUP INC.
Notes to the Condensed Consolidated Unaudited Financial Statements
for the Year Ending March 31, 2024

NOTE 1. NATURE AND BACKGROUND OF BUSINESS

The accompanying consolidated financial statements include Exxe Group Inc., formerly known as Telecorp, Inc. ('Exxe' or the 'Company'), its wholly-owned subsidiaries and its majority controlling interests in multiple entities and minority interests in selected startups through its VC holding. The Company was reorganized under the laws of the State of Delaware on August 14, 2017.

Telecorp Inc., was formed as of April 13, 2009 and incorporated in the Province of Ontario, Canada. A domicile change occurred on April 18, 2018, and the corporation name changed from Telecorp Inc. to Exxe Group Inc. on May 5, 2018.

Revenue and profit are generated via license, software, and service contracts related to its platform and core competencies.

NOTE 2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Basis of Presentation

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared for Exxe Group Inc. in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (US GAAP). In the opinion of management, all adjustments (consisting of normal recurring accruals) considered necessary for a fair presentation of the financial statements have been included. The financial statements include acquired subsidiaries, as discussed below, and include all consolidation entries required to include those subsidiaries.

The production of these financial statements completely relies on the furnishing of relevant information and corresponding documentation by management and, without an audit of this underlying information and documentation, the results shown are the opinion of management.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

For the Balance Sheet and Statement of Cash Flows, all highly liquid investments with a maturity of three months or less are considered to be cash equivalents. The Company had no cash equivalents as of March 31, 2024, or March 31, 2023.

Income Taxes

Income taxes are provided in accordance with the FASB Accounting Standards (ASC 740), Accounting for Income Tax. A deferred tax asset or liability is recorded for all temporary differences between financial and tax reporting and net operating loss carryforwards. Any deferred tax expense (benefit) resulting from the net change during the year is shown as deferred tax assets and liabilities. Deferred tax assets are reduced by a valuation allowance when, in the opinion of management, it is more likely than not that some portion or all of the deferred tax assets will not be realized. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are adjusted for the effects of changes in tax laws and rates on the date of enactment.

Basic and Diluted Net Income (Loss) Per Share

Net income (loss) per unit is calculated in accordance with Codification topic 260, "Earnings per Share" for the periods presented. Basic net loss per share is computed using the weighted average number of common membership units outstanding. Diluted loss per share has not been presented because the shares of common stock equivalents have not been included in the per share calculations as such inclusion would be anti-dilutive. Diluted earnings per share are based on the assumption that all dilutive stock options, warrants, and convertible debt are converted or exercised applying the treasury stock method. Under this method, options, warrants, and convertible debt are assumed exercised at the beginning of the period (or at the time of issuance, if later), and as if funds obtained thereby were used to purchase shares of common stock at the average market price during the period. Options, warrants, and/or convertible debt will have a dilutive effect during periods of net profit only when the average market price of the units during the period exceeds the exercise or conversion price of the items.

Stock-Based Compensation

OTC Markets Group Inc.

Disclosure Guidelines for the Pink Market (v5 December 18, 2023)

Codification topic 718 “Stock Compensation” requires that the cost resulting from all share-based transactions be recorded in the financial statements and establishes fair value as the measurement objective for share-based payment transactions with employees and acquired goods or services from non-employees. The codification also provides guidance on valuing and expensing these awards, as well as disclosure requirements of these equity arrangements. The Company adopted the codification upon creation of the Company and will expense share-based costs in the period incurred. The Company has not yet adopted a stock option plan and all share-based transactions and share-based compensation has been expensed in accordance with the codification guidance.

Convertible Instruments

The Company evaluates and accounts for conversion options embedded in its convertible instruments in accordance with professional standards for “Accounting for Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities”. Professional standards generally provide three criteria that, if met, require companies to bifurcate conversion options from their host instruments and account for them as free-standing derivative financial instruments. These three criteria include circumstances in which (a) the economic characteristics and risks of the embedded derivative instruments are not clearly and closely related to the economic characteristics and risks of the host contract, (b) the hybrid instrument that embodies both the embedded derivative instrument and the host contract is not re-measured at fair value under otherwise applicable generally accepted accounting principles with changes in fair value reported in earnings as they occur and (c) a separate instrument with the same terms as the embedded derivative instrument would be considered a derivative instrument. Professional standards also provide an exception to this rule when the host instrument is deemed to be conventional as defined under professional standards as “The Meaning of Conventional Convertible Debt Instrument”.

The Company accounts for convertible instruments when it has determined that the embedded conversion options should not be bifurcated from their host instruments in accordance with professional standards when “Accounting for Convertible Securities with Beneficial Conversion Features,” as those professional standards pertain to “Certain Convertible Instruments.” Accordingly, the Company records, when necessary, discounts to convertible notes for the intrinsic value of conversion options embedded in debt instruments based upon the differences between the fair value of the underlying shares of common stock at the commitment date of the note transaction and the effective conversion price embedded in the note. Debt discounts under these arrangements are amortized over the term of the related debt to their earliest date of redemption. The Company also records when necessary deemed dividends for the intrinsic value of conversion options embedded in preferred shares of common stock based upon the differences between the fair value of the underlying shares at the commitment date of the note transaction and the effective conversion price embedded in the note.

ASC 815-40 provides that, among other things, generally, if an event not within the entity's control could require net cash settlement, then the contract shall be classified as an asset or a liability.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

We adopted the guidance of ASC-820 for fair value instruments, which clarifies the definition of fair value, prescribes methods for determining fair value, and establishes a fair value hierarchy to classify the inputs used in measuring fair value, as follows:

Level 1	Inputs are unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities available at the measurement date.
Level 2	Inputs are quoted prices for similar assets and liabilities in active markets, quoted prices for identical or similar assets and liabilities in markets that are not active, inputs other than quoted prices that are observable, and inputs derived from or corroborated by observable market data.
Level 3	Inputs are unobservable inputs which reflect the reporting entity's own assumptions on what assumptions the market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability based on the best available information.

The carrying amounts for cash, accounts receivable, accounts payable and accrued expenses, and loans payable approximate their fair value based on the short-term maturity of these instruments. We did not identify any assets or liabilities that are required to be presented on the balance sheet at fair value in accordance with the accounting guidance.

ASC 825-10 "Financial Instruments" allows entities to voluntarily choose to measure certain financial assets and liabilities at fair value (fair value option). The fair value option may be elected on an instrument-by-instrument basis and is irrevocable unless a new election date occurs. If the fair value option is elected for an instrument, unrealized gains and losses for that instrument should be reported in earnings at each subsequent reporting date. We did not elect to apply the fair value option to any outstanding instruments.

Derivative Liabilities

Derivative financial instruments consist of convertible instruments and rights to shares of the Company's common membership units. The Company assessed that it had no derivative financial instruments as of March 31, 2024 and March 31, 2023.

ASC 815 generally provides three criteria that, if met, require companies to bifurcate conversion options from their host instruments and account for them as free-standing derivative financial instruments. These three criteria include circumstances in which (a) the economic characteristics and risks of the embedded derivative instrument are not clearly and closely related to the economic characteristics and risks of the host contract, (b) the hybrid instrument that embodies both the embedded derivative instrument and the host contract is not re-measured at fair value under otherwise applicable generally accepted accounting principles with changes in fair value reported in earnings as they occur and (c) a separate instrument with the same terms as the embedded derivative instrument would be considered a derivative instrument subject to the requirement of ASC 815. ASC 815 also provides an exception to this rule when the host instrument is deemed to be conventional, as described.

Impact of New Accounting Standards

The Company does not expect the adoption of recently issued accounting pronouncements to have a significant impact on the Company's results of operations, financial position, or cash flow.

NOTE 3. GOING CONCERN

The Company's financial statements are prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles applicable to a going concern. This contemplates the realization of assets and the liquidation of liabilities in the normal course of business. Realization values may be substantially different from carrying values as shown and these financial statements do not give effect to adjustments that would be necessary to the carrying values and classification of assets and liabilities should the Company be unable to continue as a going concern. Based on the current quarterly results, the Company appears to have a level of assets and revenue sources sufficient to cover its operating costs and allow it to continue as a going concern.

The Company showed a substantial EBIT in FY-2024, however there are no assurances the Company can generate a positive EBIT for FY-2025.

As at March 31, 2024, the Company had a working capital surplus of $17,263,296 after having commenced its plan of operations. The Company's current liquidity resources may not be sufficient to fund its anticipated level of growth of operations for at least the next 12 months from the date these financial statements were issued.

Management has committed to an aggressive growth plan for the Company. The Company's future operations are dependent upon external funding and its ability to execute its business plan, realize sales, and control expenses.

Management believes in its ability to find sufficient funding from additional borrowings and private placements to meet its business objectives including anticipated cash needs for working capital, however, there can be no assurance that the Company will be able to obtain sufficient funds to continue the development of its business operation, or if obtained, upon terms favorable to the Company.

The company's ability to continue operations depends on its ability to repay incurred debts, including short-term debts, and there is no assurance that the Company will be able to obtain financing for those obligations.

The Company's future capital requirements for its operations will depend on many factors, including the ability to generate revenues and its ability to obtain capital on reasonable terms. There is no assurance that the Company will be successful in any capital-raising efforts that it may undertake to fund operations and implement its business plan in the future. As a result, there are inherent risks to the Company's ability to continue its operation as is without need for major restructuring, if the need arises.

Management Discussion and Analysis

As of March 31, 2024, the Company effected a refocused business strategy. Exxe Group disposed of Myle-One Beteiligungen, AG to minority interest holders while simultaneously forming a series of joint ventures, acquiring distribution licensing rights, as well as acquiring core competencies and capabilities on a prepaid expense basis. Full details are available in Note 4.

General Business Conditions

The company anticipated higher inflation, and rising interest rates earlier in 2021-2023. The company is currently anticipating an uptick in inflation in 2025-2026 along with potential rises in fed funds rate and interest rates. The Company has taken steps to prepare for current market conditions although risks remain as the market conditions unfold.

At present, inflation in the United States appears to have broadly bottomed, although there are still signs of rising inflation as evidenced by changes in the core CPI numbers which increased 2.8% on a year-on-year basis in March. In the 12 months through March, inflation rose 2.7%.

Annualized inflation remains well above the Federal Reserve's target of 2%. The personal consumption expenditures (PCE) price index increased 0.3% in March 2024 according to the Commerce Department's Bureau of Economic Analysis.

These combined macro factors suggest that the Federal Reserve will hold rates higher for a longer period of time in order to bring inflation down to the target of 2%, as well as increasing the likelihood of rises in fed funds rates in 2025. Companies that are heavily indebted or use floating rates are likely to continue to pay higher than anticipated interest rates on their borrowings, and therefore may experience distressed valuations. This may lead to new opportunities for Exxe to acquire distressed assets.

The German Federal Statistical Office (Destatis) reported that the inflation rate in Germany, measured as the year-on-year change in the consumer price index (CPI), stood at +2.2% in March 2024. The inflation rate was +2.5% in February 2024, and +2.9% in January 2024. Destatis also reported that consumer prices in March 2024 rose by 0.4% on February 2024.

Corporate Liquidity

The Company remains focused on improving its balance sheet, liquidity, and debt-to-asset ratios. The combined impact the Company intends to achieve is to boost liquidity and achieve a capital cushion prior to any actual downturn in any of the markets in which we operate.

Management has amended its multi-year strategy to include a fourth -tier. The amended strategy is now:

- debt reduction and debt rescheduling to minimize cash expenses and to reduce cash outflows
- deploying cash and near-liquid resources to support existing revenue-generating projects
- re-evaluating projects that require significant resource allocation, or require significant physical movement of material, and have high potential risk factors
- Disposing of tangible assets and refocusing the company asset base on a combination of licenses, software, and contracts

The Company continues to make improvements to its balance sheet, liquidity, and debt-to-asset ratios as evidenced by changes between the periods ending March 31, 2023, and March 31, 2024. During this period the Company increased total current assets on the balance sheet by $2,482,642 from $22,983,337 to $25,465,979. Long-term debt decreased by $24,241,503 from $44,856,045 as of March 31, 2023 to $22,956,04 as of March 31, 2024. Total debt decreased by $31,404,402 from $62,563,130 as of March 31, 2023 to $31,158,728 as of March 31, 2024.

These changes have allowed the Company to boost liquidity and achieve an initial capital cushion. Further scope remains to fully realize the management four-tier strategy in full.

Quarterly revenue run rates were in the order of $15.8 million for Exxe Group's FY-2024. Management has amended its corporate goals and is broadly focused on a blend of revenues, profits, and improved profit margins, along with further debt reductions.

Risk Management

Management is working through a reevaluation of projects that require significant resource allocation, or require significant physical movement of material, and have high potential risk factors.

As a result of evaluating all of the Company's projects, a decision was made to dispose of fixed assets that require significant capital allocation, and instead create a balance sheet primarily focused on licenses, software, and contracts. While the fixed asset disposal is now complete, changes to the balance sheet are still ongoing and expected to complete over the course of several Quarters.

The focus remains on optimizing existing revenue generating operations in order to maximize profitability, as well as to improve profit margins.

The Company's risk management assessment and reevaluation includes ongoing assets not only from the standpoint of asset potential, but also from their short- and long-term capital needs, as well as their fit into the overall defined strategy. Therefore we may elect not to proceed with certain assets if our assessment is that those assets could result in constraints to our overall plan.

Audits & Spinoff

As of July 12, 2024 Exxe Group has completed the preparation of two years of books for its subsidiary, designarchive AG (fka Daskonzept Group AG) as requested by the auditor.

The Company continues to work with Fruci & Associates to conduct a comprehensive audit of designarchive AG (fka Daskonzept Group AG). The designarchive audit will encompass all relevant financial aspects of designarchive AG's operations. This includes balance sheets, statements of operations, stockholders' equity, cash flows, and related notes (collectively the "financial statements").

While the spinoff strategy for designarchive AG remains on track, Exxe Group is preparing a parallel strategy that could be implemented in the event certain external discussions reach fruition.

Real Estate

As of January 1, 2024, Exxe disposed of Myle-One Beteiligungen, as part of the new management strategy being effected. Exxe Group has disposed of all real estate assets. The new strategy focuses primarily on intangible assets including licenses, software, and contracts.

Agribusiness

Revenue Generating Acquisitions

From an acquisition perspective, Exxe Group will focus on technology acquisitions to support its mission of delivering diversified service suites for digital and brick and mortar businesses through its proprietary, innovative platform.

The new revenue generation strategy focuses primarily on intangible assets including licenses, software, and contracts. Exxe Group anticipates revenues in the range of $15.8 million in FY-2025.

Disposals and Potential Disposals

Exxe Group has disposed of all real estate assets, all fixed agribusiness assets, and is in the process of disposing of certain inventory.

Goodwill and Intangibles

The company is actively evaluating its Goodwill and Intangibles in a continued effort to prepare for audits, improve the company's revenue generation and financial metrics. The corporate balance sheet broadly reflects the current strategy of focusing on licenses, contracts and software.

Dividend Policy

As of the current date Exxe Group does not issue cash dividends or distributions to its shareholders. The Company has agreed to re-invest some of its cash directly back into operations. This policy is similar to other companies operating in the tech space, who elect to redirect profits back into the company for growth and expansion.
