as well as investments (December 31, 2022 only) in:

Scientific Inc (10%) (Notes 6 and 12)

These consolidated financial statements do not include any adjustments relating to the recoverability and classification of recorded asset amounts and classification of liabilities that might be necessary should the Company be unable to continue in existence. The aforementioned factors indicate the existence of a material uncertainty which may cast significant doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern.

The Company disposed of these investments during 2023.

d) Basic and Fully Diluted Loss Per Share: The basic loss per common share is computed by dividing the net loss available to common stockholders by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding. Fully- Diluted loss per common share is computed similar to basic loss per common share except that the denominator is increased to include the number of additional common shares that would have been outstanding if the potential common shares had been issued and if the additional common shares were dilutive. On September 30, 2024, and December 31, 2023, the Company had no stock equivalents that were anti-dilutive and excluded in the earnings per share computation.

e) Estimated Fair Value of Financial Instruments: The carrying value of the Company's financial instruments, consisting of accounts payable and accrued liabilities, approximate their fair value due to the short- term maturity of such instruments. Unless otherwise noted, it is management's opinion that the Company is not exposed to significant interest, currency or credit risks arising from these financial statements.

f) Revenue Recognition: It is the Company's policy that product revenues (or service revenues) will be recognized when persuasive evidence of an arrangement exists, delivery has occurred (or service has been performed), the sales price is fixed and determinable and collectability is reasonably assured.

g) Concentrations: Financial instruments that potentially subject the Company to concentrations of credit risk consist principally of cash and cash equivalents. On September 30, 2024, and December 31, 2023, the Company had $3,410 and $58,430 respectively, in funds in deposits in a business bank account, which are not insured by agencies of the U.S. Government.

h) Currency: The functional currency of the Company is the United States Dollar.

i) Use of Estimates: The preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States of America require the use of estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities known to exist as of the date the financial statements are published, and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Uncertainties with respect to such estimates and assumptions are inherent in the preparation of the Company's financial statements; accordingly, it is possible that the actual results could differ from these estimates and assumptions and could have a material effect on the reported amounts of the Company's financial position and results of operations.

j) Cash and Cash Equivalents: The Company considers all highly liquid debt instruments with an original maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

k) Recent Accounting Pronouncements: The Company management has reviewed recent accounting pronouncements issued through the date of the issuance of financial statements. In the management's opinion, except for those pronouncements detailed below, no other pronouncements apply or will have a material effect on the Company's financial statements.

In May 2009, the FASB issued ASC 855 Subsequent Events, which establishes principles and requirements for subsequent events. In accordance with the provisions of ASC 855, the Company currently evaluates subsequent events through the date the financial statements are available to be issued.

NOTE 3 - BASIS OF PRESENTATION – GOING CONCERN

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP") in the United States of America, which contemplates the Company's continuation as a going concern. However, the Company has losses to date of approximately $33,730,089. These matters raise substantial doubt about its ability to continue as a going concern. In view of these matters, realization of certain of the assets in the accompanying balance sheet is dependent upon its ability to meet its financing requirements, raise additional capital, and the success of its future operations. The Company acquired operating capital through equity offerings to the public and through the sale of notes to related parties, to fund its business plan. There is no assurance that the funds received will be sufficient to assure the Company's eventual profitability. Management believes that actions planned and presently being taken to revise its operating and financial requirements provide the opportunity for it to continue as a going concern. The financial statements do not include any adjustments that might result from these uncertainties.

NOTE 4 - INCOME TAXES

The Company is subject to U.S. federal income taxes. It has had losses to date, and therefore, has paid no income tax. Deferred income taxes arise from temporary timing differences in the recognition of income and expenses for financial reporting and tax purposes. The Company's deferred tax assets consist entirely of the benefit from net operating loss ("NOL") carry-forwards. Its deferred tax assets are offset by a valuation allowance due to the uncertainty of the realization of the NOL carry-forwards. NOL carry-forwards may be further limited by a change in Company ownership and other provisions of the tax laws.

NOTE 5 – RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

The officers and directors of the Company are involved in other business activities, and they may, in the future, become involved in additional business ventures, which may also require their time and attention. If a specific business opportunity becomes available, such persons may face a conflict in selecting between the Company and their other business interests. The Company has not formulated a policy for the resolution of such conflicts.

Included in Accounts Payable is a success fee due to the former owners of H2O Processing Inc for the commercial success of the Iron Removal System of $2.5 million.

In 2023 the Alex L. Umbra, its President and Thomas L. Crom III, its Chief Financial Officer, who collectively are owed over $4.5 million in unpaid salary, expenses and fees have a lien on all of the Companies assets. Alex L. Umbra, its President and Thomas L. Crom III, its Chief Financial Officer, who collectively were owed over $4.5 million in unpaid salary, expenses and fees at that time, have a lien on all of the Companies assets which has increased to approximately $5.6 million as of September 30, 2024. Additional financing is needed for UATG but so far funding is only available which requires personal guarantees and personal financial commitments which unfortunately cannot be met solely by UATG's management. Therefore, due to the continued nonpayment of compensation, reimbursement of costs incurred on behalf of the Company the lien on UATG's assets such H2O has been exercised and H2O is now owned by a company owned by Mr. Umbra, Crom and the principals of H2O This action is reversable if additional funds are provided without personal guarantees or additional personal funds being provided by either Mr. Umbra or Mr. Crom. Management of UATG and H2O are under no obligation to keep funding the Company or work without compensation or debt repayment. The lien was exercised protect the creditors position to ensure that other non-secured creditors could seize or otherwise take control of this asset. Also see Note 12 Litigation which notes he following "During the quarter ended June 30th a lien was filed against UATG's bank account. Due to the lack of cash the lien was unsatisfied". This action also significantly impacted UATG's management's decision to join with H2O's management who initiated the decision to exercise their lien on H2O. This was a difficult but necessary step.

This action is reversable if additional funds are provided without personal guarantees or additional personal funds being provided by either Mr. Umbra or Mr. Crom. While a number of financing possibilities exists, there is no certainty that this can be achieved in a timely manner. There is no set time frame however management would like clarity on a future course action by time the next quarterly report is due to be filed and management will work diligently towards that objective.

The amount of dispute cancels stock purchase and associated UATG $5 million additional damages.

In the above cases involving H. Mark Estrada the Company claims that the patents referred to in each agreement did not exist. The Company continued to work with H. Mark Estrada with an objective to develop those patents and that collaboration continued until May 2023 when UATG announced an investment by a strategic partner into Ossifix as discussed above. H. Mark Estrada position is that he was not paid and did not receive any UATG shares and in case involving Ossifix does not address the existence or non-existence of patents.

NOTE 13- SUBSEQUENT EVENTS

The Company has reviewed subsequent events up to and including the issuance date of these statements, and determined that except for those events disclosed herein, the following subsequent events have occurred.

As stated in Note 5 Related Party Transaction in 2023 the Alex L. Umbra, its President and Thomas L. Crom III, its Chief Financial Officer, who collectively were owed over $4.5 million in unpaid salary, expenses and fees at that time, have a lien on all of the Companies assets which has increased to approximately $5.5 million as of June 30, 2024. As noted in previous disclosures UATGs officers have not been paid and are owed significant amounts which has caused immense personal financial and emotional hardships. Additional financing is needed for UATG but so far funding is only available which requires personal guarantees and personal financial commitments which unfortunately cannot be met solely by UATG's management.

Therefore, due to the continued nonpayment of compensation, reimbursement of costs incurred on behalf of the Company the lien on UATG's assets such H2O has been exercised and H2O is now owned by a company owned by Mr. Umbra, Crom and the principals of H2O This action is reversable if additional funds are provided without personal guarantees or additional personal funds being provided by either Mr. Umbra or Mr. Crom. Management of UATG and H2O are under no obligation to keep funding the Company or work without compensation or debt repayment. The lien was exercised protect the creditors position to ensure that other non-secured creditors could seize or otherwise take control of this asset. Also see Note 12 Litigation which notes the following "During the quarter ended June 30th a lien was filed against UATG's bank account. Due to the lack of cash the lien was unsatisfied". This action also significantly impacted UATG's management's decision to join with H2O's management who initiated the decision to exercise their lien on H2O. This was a difficult but necessary step.

This action is reversable if additional funds are provided without personal guarantees or additional personal funds being provided by either Mr. Umbra or Mr. Crom. While a number of financing possibilities exists, there is no certainty that this can be achieved in a timely manner. There is no set time frame however management would like clarity on a future course action by time the next quarterly report is due to be filed and management will work diligently towards that objective.
