NOTE A – SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES AND DESCRIPTION OF BUSINESS

National Stock Yards Company, through its subsidiaries, St. Louis National Stockyards Company (SLNSY) and Oklahoma National Stock Yards Company (ONSY), operates a diversified corporation.

ONSY provides a marketplace for the exchange of livestock. Their customer base consists of livestock producers who provide animals for sale primarily to feedlots, meatpackers and other livestock operations throughout the United States. See Note G.

SLNSY owns approximately 75 acres of undeveloped real estate located approximately 2 miles from downtown St. Louis, Missouri. Note F provides more detail. The East St. Louis Junction Railroad Company, a wholly owned subsidiary of SLNSY, further enhances the commercial diversity of the properties. The St. Louis property is currently for sale.

Both operating facilities provide leasing of real estate, warehouses and office space.

1. Principles of Consolidation

The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of National Stock Yards Company and its wholly-owned subsidiaries, Oklahoma National Stock Yards Company and St. Louis National Stockyards Company.

All significant intercompany transactions have been eliminated.

2. Cash Equivalents

For purposes of the statement of cash flows, the Company considers all highly liquid debt instruments purchased with a maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents. The Company has cash and cash equivalents in a financial institution that at times may exceed federal deposit insurance limits. The Company has not experienced any losses in such accounts, and management believes that the Company is not exposed to any significant credit risk on cash and cash equivalents.

3. Trade Accounts Receivable

Trade accounts receivable are stated at the amount management expects to collect from outstanding balances. Management provides for probable uncollectible amounts through a charge to earnings and a credit to a valuation allowance. Balances that are still outstanding after management has used reasonable collection efforts are written off through a charge to the valuation allowance and a credit to trade accounts receivable.

There were $110 in write-offs to bad debt in the three and nine months ended September 30, 2024. There were no write-offs or recoveries collected for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2023. See Note G regarding ongoing litigation as of the date of this report.

NOTE A – SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES AND DESCRIPTION OF BUSINESS (CONTINUED)

4. Property and Equipment

Land owned by St. Louis National Stockyards Company was recorded at the organization of the Company in 1932 at an amount equal to the book value of a predecessor company. The land value was subsequently reduced in the 1980's to reflect its then estimated realizable value. Additions to property and equipment are recorded at cost.

Depreciation is computed using straight-line and accelerated methods. The provision for depreciation is computed based on the Company's estimates of the useful lives of the property, which range from 3 to 40 years.

The cost of maintenance and repairs is charged to operations as incurred. Renewals and betterments which extend the lives of existing properties are capitalized. Gain or loss on the disposal of assets is reflected in operations at the time of disposal.

5. Advertising

Advertising costs are expensed as incurred. Advertising expense for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2024 was approximately $30,800 and $171,200, respectively. Advertising expense for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2023 was approximately $17,900 and $54,700, respectively. Oklahoma National Stockyards hosted the 2024 Livestock Marketing Association Convention, including the World Livestock Auctioneer Championship in June 2024. This infrequent event generated additional sales volume from a special auction and event sponsorships. The net costs of this event were included in second quarter advertising costs.

6. Income Taxes

The Company accounts for income taxes utilizing an asset and liability approach to financial accounting and reporting for income taxes. The difference between the financial statement and tax bases of assets and liabilities is determined quarterly. Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are computed for those differences that have future tax consequences using the currently enacted tax laws and rates that apply to the periods in which they are expected to affect taxable income. Valuation allowances are established, if necessary, to reduce deferred tax assets to the amount that will more likely than not be realized. Income tax expense represents the current tax payable or refundable for the period plus or minus the net change in the deferred tax assets and liabilities.

7. Revenue Recognition

The Company recognizes revenue for financial reporting purposes when it satisfies a performance obligation by transferring control over a product or service to a customer. The Company earns revenues primarily from its livestock operations and its leasing operations. Revenues earned through its leasing operations are accounted for under ASC Topic 842 Leases.

The Company's contracts with customers include goods and services of delivery, yardage assessments, auction, and feed, which are integrated into one overall output or performance obligation as the provision of a marketplace for the exchange of livestock. The Company's performance obligations are satisfied as the Company completes each day's obligations.

Consideration from livestock contracts is variable in nature because fees are based on the number of livestock brought to the marketplace, which can vary from period to period and is outside the Company's control. Fees at published rates are invoiced to customers daily as performance obligations are met based on the volume of livestock brought through the marketplace and payment is generally due when invoiced. The Company recognizes revenue when invoiced and collection is reasonably expected.

Receivables from livestock contracts were approximately $27,000, $47,000, and $60,000 at September 30, 2024, June 30, 2024 and March 31, 2024, respectively. There were no payables from livestock contracts at the end of each of these periods.

Receivables from leasing operations were approximately $100,000, $57,000, and $60,000 at September 30, 2024, June 30, 2024 and March 31, 2024, respectively. There were no payables from leasing contracts at the end of each of these periods.

8. Net Earnings Per Common Share

Net earnings per common share have been computed based on the common shares outstanding of 43,612 at September 30, 2024 and 2023.

9. Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

10. Subsequent Events

The Company has evaluated subsequent events through November 14, 2024 which is the date the financial statements were available to be issued.

NOTE B – FINANCING ARRANGEMENTS

The Company has a $500,000 unsecured line of credit with a bank which matures in November 2024. Interest is computed at the prime rate, which was 8.0% and 8.5% at September 30, 2024 and 2023, respectively. There was no outstanding balance at September 30, 2024. The balance of the line of credit at September 30, 2023 was $88,109.

In June 2022, the Company entered into a finance lease to purchase equipment. The total cost of the equipment was $69,500. The lease requires monthly interest and principal payments of $1,390 and matures June 2027. Interest on the lease was calculated at 9.215%. The outstanding principal balance on this lease at September 30, 2024 and 2023 was $39,687 and $52,717, respectively.

In October 2022, the Company obtained a construction loan to fund the cost to build a warehouse for an existing tenant. The construction was completed in March 2023 with borrowings totaling $770,206. The loan has a variable interest rate and matures October 2032. The loan includes a demand feature that will only be exercised if an event of default takes place. This loan requires interest only payments through July 2023, monthly principal and interest payments of $5,501 through October 2027, monthly principal and interest payments of $6,043 through September 2032, with final payment due October 2032. The outstanding principal balance at September 30, 2024 and 2023 was $746,347 and $766,988, respectively. The loan is collateralized by all assets of the Company.

In September 2024, the Company settled certain liabilities with the Oklahoma Industries Authority (OIA) related to the Oklahoma Exchange Building from a 1981 public bond program. This mortgage loan totals $106,256 and requires annual interest and principal payments of approximately $14,500 and matures January 2032. This settlement was included in operating expenses for the quarter ended September 30, 2024.

The following is a schedule of future principal payments required under the equipment and building financing arrangements, outstanding as of September 30, 2024:

Twelve month period ending September 30,	Equipment Lease	Building Loans	Total
2025	$ 13,520	$ 35,828	$ 49,348
2026	14,820	35,892	50,712

Long-term debt	$ 26,167	$ 816,775	$ 842,942

NOTE C – INCOME TAXES

The Company recognizes uncertain tax positions in the financial statements based on whether positions are more likely than not of being sustained on audit, based on the technical merits of the positions. Amounts recognized are subject to estimate and management judgment with respect to the likely outcome of each uncertain tax position. No provision for uncertain tax positions was considered necessary at September 30, 2024 or 2023. The Company is no longer subject to examination by U.S. federal or applicable state tax authorities for years before 2021. Management continually evaluates the effect of expiring statutes of limitations, changes in tax law and new authoritative rulings.

The tax effect of temporary differences giving rise to the net deferred tax liabilities as of September 30, 2024 or 2023 is as follows:

Net deferred tax liability	2024	2023
Depreciation	$ (263,000)	$ (280,000)
Net operating loss	85,000	-
Difference between book and tax basis of land held for real estate development	65,000	65,000

NOTE D – EMPLOYEE BENEFIT PLANS

The Company sponsors the National Stock Yards Company Savings and Retirement Plan for the benefit of its employees. The savings component of the plan is a 401(k) plan and covers all employees of the Company who have met certain minimum age and length of service requirements. The Plan permits contributions from the employees in an amount not greater than 12% of base compensation. In addition, the Company made discretionary contributions to the plan of 8% of the eligible employees' wages in 2024 and 2023. Company contributions are vested over a six year period. Company contribution expenses were approximately $21,000 and $66,200 for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2024, respectively. Company contribution expenses were approximately $20,000 and $39,500 for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2023, respectively.

NOTE E – COMMITMENTS AND LEASING

Leasing Operations

The Company leases land and commercial space under long-term and month-to-month leases to various tenants at its St. Louis and Oklahoma facilities. The long-term leases expire at various dates through July 2031.

Two leases at the Oklahoma facility require monthly, escalating rent payments. The Company is recognizing rent revenue on a straight-line basis over the terms of the leases, resulting in an unbilled rent receivable of $37,000, $31,000 and $25,000 at September 30, 2024, June 30, 2024 and March 31, 2024, respectively. Tenants who have prepaid rent resulted in deferred rent balances of $6,000, $18,000 and $33,000 at September 30, 2024, June 30, 2024 and March 31, 2024, respectively.

Minimum future rentals to be received on non-cancelable leases for each of the next five calendar years and in the aggregate are:

Year ending December 31,
2024	$ 621,497
2025	498,540
2026	510,565
2027	510,565
2028	342,565
Thereafter	234,959
	$ 2,718,691

In addition to the future rents disclosed above, the Company has a perpetual lease with an unrelated company for land with annual rent of $48,000 as of March 31, 2024 and 2023.

NOTE F – SIGNIFICANT ESTIMATES AND CONTINGENCIES

St. Louis Real Estate Development

Management estimates that the fair value of the Company's St. Louis real estate is in excess of its carrying value and demolition costs, and accordingly, the carrying value of the St. Louis real estate has not been adjusted. However, the amounts the Company will ultimately realize from the sale or development of this property could differ materially from management's current estimate.

St. Louis Real Estate – Environmental

The Company has obtained Phase I environmental assessments at its St. Louis facility at various times. These assessments have identified past uses of the property which could lead to environmental conditions, however, management is not aware of specific environmental matters which require immediate remediation. Management continues to consider the assessments and will perform the recommended investigations and testing as required to sell or develop the real estate. The ultimate liability for all environmental matters, if any, cannot be determined.

NOTE G – CLAIMS, CONTRACTS AND COMMITMENTS

Oklahoma National Stock Yards Litigation

In early 2024, the Company posted a tariff increase of $5 per head, approved by the United States Department of Agriculture's Packers & Stockyards Division (PSD) on February 8, 2024, and implemented by the Company on February 26, 2024. Certain commission companies operating at the Company's Oklahoma stockyards facility disputed the tariff and filed a formal complaint with the PSD, along with litigation in Oklahoma County district court, to oppose the posted increase. The PSD issued a determination that the increase was reasonable in June 2024, however certain commission companies continue to not remit the current tariff amount. The Company is vigorously defending its right to operate its business and charge reasonable and appropriate fees to third parties privileged to operate at its stockyard. The PSD has the authority to review and regulate the Company's operations, and this matter remains pending before the PSD for a determination on the enforcement of collections of the tariff. The Oklahoma state court litigation has been stayed pending resolution of the matter at the PSD. The increased tariff amounted to approximately $384,400 and $1,038,600 for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2024. The Company has not recognized the tariff increase in its revenue pending resolution of the foregoing disputes, with exception of $106,400 collected after the PSD completed their reasonableness assessment. In the event that the increased tariff amounts are not collected for the past and future, it will continue to have a negative effect on the Company's financial results.

NOTE G – CLAIMS, CONTRACTS AND COMMITMENTS (CONTINUED)

St. Louis Real Estate Development

In connection with a 2020 land sale, the Company received a $205,547 promissory note which accrued interest at 4% annually. The unpaid principal and accrued interest was due August 20, 2023 and was paid in-full.

Oklahoma National Stock Yards Real Estate

In October 2024, the Company's Board of Directors began to explore alternative options for the Oklahoma City operations by entering into an agreement with a real estate broker. This agreement allows the broker to market the approximately 100 acres of land comprising the Oklahoma National Stock Yards property. This agreement runs through April 30, 2025.

NOTE H – NEW ACCOUNTING STANDARDS

The Financial Accounting Standards Board has issued Accounting Standards Update 2023-09 Income Taxes (Topic 740), regarding income tax disclosures. The new income tax standard is intended to improve the transparency and decision usefulness of income tax disclosures. It will require the Company to disclose income taxes incurred and paid, disaggregated by federal, state and individual jurisdictions. This new standard will become effective for the Company's year-ending December 31, 2025.

The Financial Accounting Standards Board has issued Accounting Standards Update 2024-03 Income Statement – Reporting Comprehensive Income – Expense Disaggregation Disclosures (Subtopic 220-40): Disaggregation of Income Statement Expenses. This standard will require public entities to disclose, in interim and annual reporting periods, additional information about certain expenses in the notes to the financial statements. This new standard will become effective for the Company's year-ending December 31, 2027.
