What are the key risks that are specific to the Issuer?
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The Issuer expects it should fall within the Irish regime for the taxation of qualifying companies and as such should be taxed only on the amount of its retained profit after deducting all amounts of interest and other revenue expenses due to be paid by the Issuer. If, for any reason, the Issuer is not or ceases to be entitled to these benefits or any of its expenses are not deductible for tax purposes, then profits or losses could arise in the Issuer which could have tax effects not contemplated in the cashflows connected with the Metal Securities and as such could adversely affect the tax treatment of the Issuer and consequently the payments on the Metal Securities. • Other than the Metal held in respect of the Metal Securities (to the extent not applied in discharge of certain establishment expenses of the Issuer), the Issuer has, and will have, no assets other than a small amount of profit received by the Issuer in connection with the issue of the Metal Securities and in respect of the Metal Securities, any rights, property, sums or other assets on which such Metal Securities issued under the Programme are secured. • The Issuer is not required to be licensed or authorised under any current securities, commodities, insurance or banking laws of its jurisdiction of incorporation. There can be no assurance, however, that regulatory authorities in one or more other jurisdictions will not determine that the Issuer is required to be licensed, registered or authorised under the prevailing securities, banking or commodities laws of that jurisdiction or that legal or regulatory requirements in this respect will not change so as to bring the Issuer's activity relating to the Metal Securities within the scope of such laws. Any such requirement or change could have an adverse impact on the Issuer or the Securityholders.

C. KEY INFORMATION ON THE SECURITIES

	Currency, denomination, par value, number of securities issued and duration

	Rights attached to the Metal Securities
Overview - The Metal Securities are secured, undated, zero coupon, limited recourse debt obligations of the Issuer. Metal Securities have an effective notional entitlement to a type of Metal, the "Metal Entitlement". The metal to which The Royal Mint Responsibly Sourced Physical Gold ETC Securities are linked is gold ("Metal"). A Securityholder is entitled to require redemption of the Metal Security and on the redemption settlement date receive an amount of Metal (or cash) equal to the relevant Metal Entitlement. The Metal Entitlement for The Royal Mint Responsibly Sourced Physical Gold ETC Securities at the date trading commenced is 0.01 fine troy ounce of gold. On each subsequent day, the metal entitlement in respect of each Metal Security (the "Metal Entitlement per Security") is reduced at a rate equal to the portion of the total expense ratio (described in section D below) applicable to such day. During the life of the Metal Securities, Securityholders can buy and sell Metal Securities on each exchange on which the Metal Securities are listed from time to time. Only the authorised participants in respect of the Class specified in the Final Terms can subscribe for Metal Securities directly from the Issuer. Following extinguishment of any such claim, no further steps may be taken against the Issuer to recover any further sum in respect of the extinguished claim. Meetings - The relevant trust deed in respect of each Class contains provisions for convening meetings of Securityholders of a single Class to consider any matter affecting their interests, including modification by extraordinary resolution of the relevant Class of Metal Securities (including the terms and conditions of the Metal Securities or the provisions of that trust deed insofar as it may apply to such Class of Metal Securities). Such a meeting may be convened by Securityholders holding not less than one fifth in number of the Metal Securities then outstanding.
	Rank of the Metal Securities in the Issuer's capital structure upon insolvency
The Metal Securities are secured, undated, zero coupon, limited recourse obligations of the Issuer and the Metal Securities of a Class rank equally amongst themselves. Security - The Issuer's obligations in respect of a Class of Metal Securities are secured by the security created by the relevant security documents. The security is granted to the security trustee in respect of a Class as security for the payment of the secured liabilities in respect of such Class. The secured property in respect of the Class will secure, pursuant to an English law governed security deed, the obligations of the Issuer to Securityholders under the Metal

Securities and other obligations of the Issuer in respect of the Class. The security constituted by the applicable security documents in respect of each Class will become enforceable upon the occurrence of an event of default.

Events of Default - The events of default are:

- (a) the Issuer defaults in the payment of any sum due in respect of a Class of Metal Securities or any of them for a period of 14 calendar days or more;
- (b) the Issuer does not perform or comply with any one or more of its obligations (other than a payment obligation) under a Class of Metal Securities, the trust deed, the security deed or any other programme document, which default is incapable of remedy or, if in the opinion of the trustee capable of remedy, is not remedied within 30 calendar days (or such longer period as the trustee may permit) after notice of such default shall have been given to the Issuer by the trustee (and, for these purposes, a failure to perform or comply with an obligation shall be deemed to be remediable notwithstanding that the failure results from not doing an act or thing by a particular time);
- (c) any order shall be made by any competent court or any resolution passed for the winding-up or dissolution of the Issuer, save for the purposes of amalgamation, merger, consolidation, reorganisation or other similar arrangement on terms previously approved in writing by the trustee or by an extraordinary resolution;
- (d) an examiner is appointed in respect of the Issuer;
- (e) any order shall be made by any competent court or any resolution passed for the winding-up or dissolution of the custodian in respect of that Class of Metal Securities, save for the purposes of amalgamation, merger, consolidation, reorganisation or other similar arrangement on terms previously approved in writing by the trustee or by an extraordinary resolution; or
- (f) the custodian in respect of that Class of Metal Securities seeks or becomes subject to the appointment of an administrator, provisional liquidator, conservator, receiver, trustee, custodian or other similar official for it or for all or substantially all its assets.

Order of Priority

Under the terms of the trust deed, the trustee will apply the proceeds derived from the realisation of the assets that are the subject of the security constituted by the security document as follows:

- a) first, in repayment to the Custodian of the loan made by it of the Over-allocated Metal, by payment to the Custodian of the Over-allocated Metal Proceeds (either by way of delivery of Metal or payment of cash);
- b) secondly, in payment or satisfaction of all fees, costs, charges, expenses, liabilities and other amounts properly incurred by or payable in respect of the Metal Securities to the Trustee, the Security Trustee or any receiver under or pursuant to the Security Documents (which shall include, without limitation, any Taxes required to be paid by the Trustee (other than any income, corporation or similar Tax in respect of the Trustee's remuneration), the costs of enforcing or realising all or some of the Security constituted by the Security Documents);
- c) thirdly, in payment or satisfaction of any fees, expenses or other amounts due pursuant to the Issuing and Paying Agency Agreement (including payment of any amounts owing for reimbursement in respect of any proper payment of amounts paid to Securityholders and default interest (if any) made to the Securityholders);
- d) fourthly, in payment of any amounts owing to the Securityholders pari passu and rateably; and
- e) fifthly, in payment of any balance to the Issuer for itself.

Restrictions on free transferability of the Metal Securities

The Metal Securities are not subject to any restrictions on transferability. There are restrictions on the offer and sale of the Metal Securities into, amongst other jurisdictions, the United States and the United Kingdom. In particular, Metal Securities may not be legally or beneficially owned by any U.S. person at any time nor offered, sold or delivered within the United States or to U.S. persons.

What are the key risks that are specific to the Securities?

Market Price of the Metal Securities

- Prospective investors should be aware that the secondary market price of the Metal Securities can go down as well as up throughout the life of the Metal Securities. Prospective investors should be aware that the market price of the Metal Securities on any day may not reflect their prior or future performance. As a result of adverse price movements, a Securityholder may lose the value of its entire investment or part of its investment in Metal Securities.

Risks Relating to the Underlying Metal

- The Metal Securities are linked to precious metals. Prospective investors should note that the value of a Class of Metal Securities will be affected by movements in the price of the underlying Metal. The price of Metal fluctuates widely and is affected by numerous factors beyond the Issuer's control. Movements in local and international markets and factors that affect the investment climate and investor sentiment could all affect the level of trading and, therefore, the market price of Metal Securities and this may lead to a fall in the price of Metal Securities which will have an adverse impact on any investor that purchased the Metal Securities at a higher price. Adverse movements in the price of Metal may negatively affect the return to Securityholders who sell their Metal Securities when the price of the relevant Metal has decreased since the time they purchased their Metal Securities.

Risks Relating to the Custodian and Metal Agent

- While the Issuer has put in place arrangements to minimise the holding of Metal in secured unallocated accounts, a portion of the Metal will be held in such accounts for a limited time to effect subscription and redemption. Metal held in the secured unallocated accounts does not give proprietary rights to specific bars of Metal. Instead, pursuant to the terms of the secured unallocated custody agreement in respect of a Class, the custodian has a contractual obligation to transfer the amount of Metal held in those accounts. This means that the Securityholder's position is that of an unsecured creditor. If the custodian were to become insolvent, then the Issuer will rank as an unsecured creditor of the custodian in respect of such Metal sitting in unallocated form in the secured unallocated accounts. In this scenario, the custodian's assets may not be sufficient to satisfy a claim by the Issuer, the trustee or the security trustee for the amount of Metal held in the relevant secured unallocated account, which could result in a loss to the Securityholders.
- Metal may be transferred between different locations across the United Kingdom. Once the Metal is allocated this Metal will be held in the secured allocated accounts which will be held by the custodian in respect of the Class at its vault or in the vaults of a sub-custodian. Access to such Metal, whether in transit or when held in a vault could be lost, or at least restricted, by natural events, such as flooding, or human actions, such as a terrorist attack. If such transit and/or access risk causes or contributes to the loss of underlying Metal, the Issuer would not be able to satisfy its obligations in respect of the Metal Securities. [In respect of The Royal Mint Responsibly Sourced Physical Gold ETC Securities, underlying Metal will be held in The Royal Mint Limited's vault (located in Wales).]
- The Issuer has appointed the metal agent as its agent to effect sales of Metal in connection with, amongst other things, a metal sale on a redemption. Pursuant to the terms of the metal agent agreement, the metal agent is only responsible for any loss or damage as a result of any negligence, fraud or wilful default on metal agent's part in the performance of its duties. The Issuer's limited rights in this regard mean that there is a risk that the Issuer would have limited recourse to the metal agent in circumstances where the Metal is lost or stolen in the course of a metal sale.

Operational Risks

- An investment in Metal Securities may be redeemed earlier than desired by a Securityholder and at short notice (a Compulsory Redemption). In these circumstances, the Securityholder may suffer a loss if the value of the Metal Securities is lower than it would otherwise have been if the investment had been redeemed on a day chosen by the Securityholder, rather than on the date of the early redemption.
- Only authorised participants may deal with the Issuer in applying for Metal Securities to be issued. There can be no assurance that there will at all times be an authorised participant to deal with the Issuer in applying for Metal Securities. In the event that there is no authorised participant, no Metal Securities can be issued. In such an event it may also be difficult or impossible to sell Metal Securities on the relevant stock exchange at a price close to the price published by the London Platinum and Palladium Market or the London Bullion Market Association or within a reasonable time period. In such a case, a Securityholder may redeem directly with the Issuer, which may take longer and be more costly than sale of the Metal Securities On-Exchange.
- The Metal Entitlement per Security in respect of a Class will decrease over time as a portion of the total expense ratio (a rate per annum specified in the Final Terms in respect of a Class) is applied to the Metal Entitlement on a daily basis, which reduces the Metal Entitlement per Security. There is no guarantee that the underlying Metal in respect of a Class will outperform the total expense ratio, meaning that the value of a Securityholder's investment could decrease over time.

Risks Relating to Security

- The Securityholders will have recourse only to the secured property in respect of a Class, and not to any other assets of the Issuer. If, following realisation in full of the secured property relating to the relevant Class and application of available assets, any outstanding claim against the Issuer relating to such Class remains unsatisfied, then such outstanding claim will be extinguished and no obligation will be owed by the Issuer in respect thereof,

- The security trustee may enforce the security at its discretion but is only required to enforce the security on behalf of a Securityholder if it is directed to do so by the Trustee and provided the Trustee has been instructed by a specified portion of the Securityholders and indemnified, secured and/or pre-funded to its satisfaction. In circumstances where the security trustee is not directed to enforce the security, a Securityholder will have no right to proceed directly against the Issuer and may therefore not be able to realise the value of its investment.

Tax Risks Relating to an Investment in the Metal Securities

- The tax consequences of an investment in the Metal Securities (including the related impact on the income received from Metal Securities) may differ depending: (i) on the structure and/or location of the relevant Securityholders; (ii) the tax laws of the prospective investor’s jurisdiction; and/or (iii) the tax laws of the Issuer’s country of incorporation. Consequently, prospective investors are advised to consult with their tax advisers as to their specific consequences of the acquisition, holding or disposal of the Metal Securities.

Risk Factors Relating to Legal Matters

- Government or regulatory intervention in the financial markets could result in: (i) the Issuer or any other programme party being unable to perform its obligations in relation to the Metal Securities; and/or a Securityholders being unable to hold Metal Securities. If, due to a change in any applicable law or regulation, it becomes illegal for the Issuer, a programme party or a Securityholder to perform its obligations in relation to the Metal Securities, the Metal Securities of the relevant Class may fall for compulsory redemption.

D. KEY INFORMATION ON THE OFFER OF SECURITIES TO THE PUBLIC AND THE ADMISSION TO TRADING ON A REGULATED MARKET

Under which conditions and timetable can I invest in this security?

Subscription - Only an authorised participant may subscribe for Metal Securities by way of a valid subscription form in accordance with the terms of the applicable authorised participant agreement and the operating procedures. The Issuer has absolute discretion to accept or reject in whole or in part any such subscription request. Following a subscription for Metal Securities, an authorised participant must deliver Metal with an aggregate weight equal to the Metal Entitlement of the Metal Securities into the secured accounts. Once the Metal is transferred to the secured allocated account, the Issuer will create the Metal Securities and deliver them to the authorised participant via the relevant clearing system. The relevant underlying Metal will be held with all other Metal attributable to that Class of Metal Securities in the secured accounts.

Subscription minimum - At the date of the Prospectus, the minimum number of The Royal Mint Responsibly Sourced Physical Gold ETC Securities that may be applied for at any time is 34,000.

Offer price - The offer price per Metal Security will be the delivery of the Metal Entitlement specified in the Final Terms, subject to any applicable fees.

Expenses - The Metal Entitlement per Security is reduced each day from the first day of listing and trading On-Exchange by the total expense ratio in respect of the relevant Class. The “total expense ratio” in respect of each Class is an “all-in” operational fee calculated at the rate per annum specified as such in the Final Terms in respect of each Class of Metal Securities. The total expense ratio in respect of a Class is applied to the Metal Entitlement per Security for such Class on a daily basis to determine a daily deduction of an amount of Metal from such Metal Entitlement per Security. The initial total expense ratio for each Class shall be set out in the Final Terms of the first Tranche of Metal Securities for that Class. As at the date of the Prospectus, the total expense ratio in respect of The Royal Mint Responsibly Sourced Physical Gold ETC Securities is 0.25 per cent. of one-hundredth of one fine troy ounce of the underlying Metal. The rate of the total expense ratio in respect of any class or classes of Metal Securities may be varied by the Issuer from time to time.

Why has the prospectus been produced?

Reasons for the offer and use of net proceeds - The net proceeds from the issue of Metal Securities will be an amount of underlying Metal which will be held in secured allocated accounts in respect of such Metal Securities. Such underlying Metal shall be used to meet the Issuer's obligations under the relevant Metal Securities.

Material and conflicting interests - Mr. Vaughan is also director of Apex Corporate Services (Ireland) Limited, a provider of services to the Issuer. While these roles could potentially lead to conflicts of interest, the Directors do not believe that, as at the Prospectus Date, there are any actual conflicts of interest between the duties which the directors and/or members of the administrative, management and supervisory bodies of the Issuer owe to the Issuer, and the private interest and/or other duties that such persons may have. The Apex Group and HANetf Limited have in place conflicts of interest policies that are designed to prevent conflicts of interest arising and mitigate the effect of conflicts of interest, should they arise.
