Ball Reports Second Quarter Results

Highlights

- Second quarter 2015 comparable earnings per diluted share of 89 cents vs. $1.13 in 2014, including 12 cents per diluted share for unfavorable currency effects in the quarter
- Multiple growth capital projects underway to benefit 2016 and beyond
- Solid European metal beverage and global aerosol volume demand unable to fully offset foreign currency translation, project start-up costs and aluminum premium headwinds
- Received Ball shareholder approval for Share Issuance Proposal related to proposed offer for Rexam PLC; regulatory review proceeding as expected
- 2015 free cash flow still expected to be in the range of $600 million, excluding cash costs for the proposed Rexam acquisition

BROOMFIELD, Colo., July 30, 2015 /PRNewswire/ -- Ball Corporation (NYSE:BLL) today reported second quarter 2015 net earnings attributable to the corporation of $160.4 million, or $1.13 per diluted share (including net after tax income of $35.0 million, or 24 cents per diluted share for debt refinancing, economic hedging gains, business consolidation and other costs) on sales of $2.2 billion, compared to $153.1 million, or $1.07 per diluted share, on sales of $2.3 billion in the second quarter of 2014. Results for the first six months of 2015 were net earnings attributable to the corporation of $181.1 million, or $1.28 per diluted share, on sales of $4.1 billion, compared to $246.6 million, or $1.72 per diluted share, on sales of $4.3 billion in the first six months of 2014.

Comparable earnings per diluted share for the second quarter and year-to-date 2015 were 89 cents and $1.57, respectively, versus second quarter and year-to-date 2014 comparable earnings per diluted share of $1.13 and $1.94, respectively.

Details of comparable segment earnings, business consolidation activities, historical segment reporting, Rexam-transaction related hedging and costs can be found in the notes to the unaudited consolidated financial statements that accompany this news release.

"As we have been discussing throughout this year, headwinds related to foreign currency translation, higher metal premiums in Europe, deferred compensation costs associated with director retirements and project start-up costs related to growth capital investments persisted and totaled 23 cents and 39 cents, respectively, in the second quarter and first half of 2015. Numerous capital projects are underway in North America, Europe and Southeast Asia and will fully ramp up in late 2015 and the first half of 2016," said John A. Hayes, chairman, president and chief executive officer. "On July 28, 2015, at a special shareholder meeting, Ball shareholders approved the Share Issuance Proposal related to the one-third equity portion of the purchase price for our proposed offer for Rexam PLC. Our work continues on securing necessary regulatory approvals to complete the acquisition."

Metal Beverage Packaging, Americas & Asia

Metal beverage packaging, Americas and Asia, comparable segment operating earnings in the second quarter 2015 were $126.5 million on sales of $1.1 billion, compared to $142.0 million on sales of $1.1 billion in second quarter 2014. For the first six months, comparable segment operating earnings were $251.5 million on sales of $2.2 billion, compared to $267.1 million on sales of $2.1 billion during the same period in 2014.

Mid-single digit growth for specialty beverage packaging in North America was unable to offset continued weakness in standard 12-ounce carbonated soft drink containers and anticipated softer can demand in Brazil due to challenging year-over-year comparisons following the 2014 World Cup. In China, cost-out initiatives are progressing in order to address the difficult pricing environment and volumes were flat in the quarter. To better align beverage can end capacity across our North American plant network, the Bristol, Va., beverage end-making plant will cease production during the second quarter of 2016. The plant's existing customers will be supplied by other Ball facilities.

Metal Beverage Packaging, Europe

Metal beverage packaging, Europe, comparable segment earnings in the second quarter 2015 were operating earnings of $59.6 million on sales of $481.0 million, compared to $73.7 million on sales of $558.4 million in the second quarter 2014. Results for the first six months were comparable segment operating earnings of $88.5 million on sales of $860.2 million, compared to $129.2 million on sales of $1.0 billion in 2014.

Low-single-digit volume growth for beverage cans across Europe was not enough to offset unfavorable currency translation and higher aluminum premiums. On a euro basis, comparable segment earnings were flat in the quarter. Supply relative to higher seasonal demand remains tight across our European plant footprint while the third line in Oss, Netherlands continues to ramp up its production.

Metal Food & Household Products Packaging

Metal food and household products packaging comparable segment results in the second quarter 2015 were operating earnings of $28.7 million on sales of $332.0 million, compared to $39.8 million on sales of $367.7 million in the second quarter 2014. Year-to-date results were comparable segment operating earnings of $58.9 million on sales of $640.3 million, compared to $76.1 million on sales of $708.8 million in 2014.

Aligning with the first quarter trend, second quarter segment results and volumes were influenced by the previously disclosed U.S. food container customer shift, project start-up costs, unfavorable currency effects partially offset by excellent plant performance across the global can manufacturing facilities. Progress continues on capital investments in Europe, India and the United States which will all start-up in the second half of 2015.

Aerospace and Technologies

Aerospace and technologies comparable segment earnings in the second quarter 2015 were operating earnings of $19.5 million on sales of $230.2 million, compared to $24.8 million on sales of $241.1 million in the second quarter 2014. For the first six months, comparable segment operating earnings were $39.5 million on sales of $445.0 million compared to $48.9 million on sales of $461.8 million during the same period last year. Backlog at the end of the quarter was $641.3 million.

During the quarter, the segment successfully integrated four of the five complex instruments that will fly onboard the Joint Polar Satellite System (JPSS-1), the nation's next polar-orbiting weather satellite, and is moving toward environmental testing by early 2016 with on-time delivery scheduled for late 2016 and launch scheduled in 2017. Earlier this month and after traveling for nearly a decade through space, Ball's Ralph instrument, one of three cameras aboard the New Horizons mission, began to return images of Pluto's surface and geological structures.

Year-to-date 2015 segment earnings continue to reflect the greater number of program completions that occurred in the first half of 2014. Ongoing excellent program execution and effective cost management are providing stability across the business while the segment continues to pursue various programs that are expected to be awarded in late-2015 and early-2016.

Outlook

"We continue to expect 2015 free cash flow to be in the range of $600 million, excluding cash costs for the proposed Rexam acquisition, and we have executed additional currency and interest rate hedges to mitigate risk related to the proposed acquisition and to lock in the transaction's purchase price economics," said Scott C. Morrison, senior vice president and chief financial officer.

"Our second quarter was largely in line with our expectations given lower than expected volumes and anticipated headwinds from currency translation, metal premiums and start-up costs. We still expect that second half 2015, as compared to first half 2015, should improve as we cycle off difficult year-over-year comparisons and aluminum premiums become a tailwind that continues into 2016," Hayes said.

- (2) During the first six months of 2015, the company recorded charges for professional services and other costs associated with the announced, proposed acquisition of Rexam announced in February 2015.

Also during the first six months of 2015, the company entered into derivative financial instruments to reduce its currency exchange rate exposure associated with the British pound denominated cash portion of the announced, proposed acquisition of Rexam and entered into derivative financial instruments to mitigate its exposure to interest rate changes associated with anticipated debt issuances also in connection with the cash portion of the announced, proposed acquisition of Rexam.

- (3) In February 2015, the company entered into a new $3 billion revolving credit facility to: 1) replace its existing revolving credit facility, 2) repay its Term C loan, 3) repay the outstanding balance on the existing revolving credit facility, 4) redeem the 2020 and 2021 senior notes and 5) repay the existing private placement debt of Rexam upon closing of the announced, proposed acquisition of Rexam.

Notes to the Condensed Financial Statements (Second Quarter 2015)

2. Business Consolidation Activities and Other Noncomparable Items (continued)

- (3) (continued)
During the first quarter of 2015, the company recorded charges for the write off of unamortized deferred financing costs associated with the refinancing of the revolving credit facility and repayment of the Term C loan.

In March 2015, the company completed the redemption of both its outstanding 2020 and 2021 senior notes and recorded charges for the associated call premiums and the write offs of unamortized financing costs and premiums.

- (4) In June 2015, Ball issued $1 billion of 5.25 percent senior notes due in June 2025. The company used the net proceeds of the offering and other available cash to repay borrowings under its revolving credit facility and reduced the borrowing capacity under the revolving credit facility from $3 billion to $2.25 billion. As a result, the company recorded charges for the partial extinguishment related to the revolving credit facility during the second quarter of 2015.
- (5) During the first half of 2015, the company recorded charges for the amortization of deferred financing costs associated with the £3.3 billion unsecured, committed bridge loan agreement, entered into in February 2015, in connection with the announced, proposed acquisition of Rexam.
