Accordingly, it is important to avoid discussions with our competitors regarding pricing, terms and conditions, costs, marketing plans, customers and any other proprietary or confidential information. If you believe that a conversation with a competitor enters an inappropriate area, end the conversation at once and consult with your company's legal department or the THOR Legal and Compliance Department. (For more information see ADM-4: United States Antitrust Policy)

best for our shareholders and prevent potential conflicts by notifying our supervisor or seeking guidance from the THOR Legal and Compliance Department (legal@thorindustries.com).

CONFLICTS OF INTEREST – All of us must be able to perform our duties and exercise judgment on behalf of our Company without influence or impairment, or the appearance of influence or impairment, due to a non-Company activity, interest, or relationship. Conflicts of interest arise when your private interest interferes, or even appears to interfere, in any way with the Company's interests or when you, or a member of your family, receive improper personal benefits (especially loans or guarantees of obligations) because of your position in the Company. Any time you believe a conflict of interest may exist, you must disclose the potential conflict to your supervisor, who will work with the THOR Legal department (For more information see ADM-8: Conflicts of Interest)

You must disclose to our THOR Legal and Compliance Department any situation in which one of your relatives has an interest in a competitor, supplier or party to any transaction involving our Company. THOR Legal will then ensure that the situation is reviewed to determine whether the Company's business relationship with the relevant vendor, etc. is in the best interest of our Company. (For more information see ADM-8: Conflicts of Interest)

SERVICE ON BOARDS – Serving as a director of another corporation may create a conflict of interest. Being a director or serving on a standing committee of some organizations, including government agencies, also may create a conflict. Before accepting an appointment to the board or a committee of any organization whose interests may conflict with our Company's interests, you must discuss it with your immediate supervisor and obtain their approval. This rule does not apply to non-employee directors of our Company. (For more information see ADM-8: Conflicts of Interest)

Under no circumstances may an employee exploit our Company's business opportunities for their own personal gain. (For more information see ADM-8: Conflicts of Interest)
