I am excited to share that Berry has entered into an agreement to combine with Amcor. Berry has undergone a significant transformation over the past year, and we believe combining with Amcor is the right next step. This is a testament to our entire team, and I'm grateful for our employees' commitment and dedication.

Berry and Amcor will be even better together, and I look forward to all we will achieve as a combined organization.

Today marks a significant milestone in Berry's history. We are excited to announce our agreement to combine with Amcor creating a global leader in consumer and healthcare packaging solutions.

Our complementary businesses and unprecedented innovation capabilities will enable us to accelerate growth and solve customers' and consumers' sustainability needs in ways neither company could achieve on their own. We couldn't be more excited about this transaction and all that we will achieve together.
