5yrNC1yr Auto Callable Contingent Interest Notes Linked to the MerQube US Tech+ Vol Advantage Index

J.P.Morgan

The following is a summary of the terms of the notes offered by the preliminary pricing supplement hyperlinked below.

Index Overview

The MerQube US Tech+ Vol Advantage Index (the "Index") attempts to provide a dynamic rules-based exposure to the underlying asset to which the Index is linked (the "Underlying Asset"), while targeting a level of implied volatility, with a maximum exposure to the Underlying Asset of 500% and a minimum exposure to the Underlying Asset of 0%. Since February 9, 2024 (the "Amendment Effective Date"), the Underlying Asset has been an unfunded position in the Invesco QQQ TrustSM, Series 1 (the "QQQ Fund"), calculated as the excess of the total return of the QQQ Fund over a notional financing cost. Prior to the Amendment Effective Date, the Underlying Asset was an unfunded rolling position in E-Mini Nasdaq-100 futures. The Index is subject to a 6.0% per annum daily deduction, and the performance of the Underlying Asset is subject to a notional financing cost deducted daily. The investment objective of the QQQ Fund is to seek to track the investment results, before fees and expenses, of the Nasdaq-100 Index[®].

It is possible that such hedging or other trading activities of J.P. Morgan or its affiliates could result in substantial returns for J.P. Morgan and its affiliates while the value of the notes declines.
- Our affiliate, JPMS, worked with MerQube (the "Index Sponsor") in developing the guidelines and policies governing the composition and calculation of the Index.
